SUMMARY OF COVER LETTER
Petitioner: SOUZA, Arthur Ribeiro Melo e
Type of Petition: I-140, EB-2 National Interest Waiver
Classification Sought: Immigration and Nationality Act 203(b)(2)(B)

This petition is submitted on behalf of Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo Sousa is a highly accomplished dental surgeon with more than seventeen years of progressive clinical and entrepreneurial experience in implant dentistry, oral rehabilitation, advanced surgical procedures, prosthetic restoration, and patient-centered dental care. His academic credentials include a degree in Dentistry and a specialization in Implant Dentistry, which have been evaluated as equivalent in the United States to a Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D.) and one year of graduate study in Implant Dentistry. In addition to his academic background, Dr. Sousa has built and managed a successful private clinic, served in leadership roles at Uniodonto Uberaba, maintained professional licensure and specialized memberships, and earned strong third-party recognition for his technical skill, reliability, and clinical judgment.

Dr. Sousa seeks a National Interest Waiver to establish and lead MBR Dentistry in Houston, Texas. His proposed endeavor is not a generic private-practice model. Rather, it is a phased oral-health initiative designed to expand access to specialized oral healthcare through home-based and hospital-integrated care, later mobile outreach to underserved and low-access communities, and the future development of a clinical training and rehabilitation center. This initiative is directed toward populations that often face significant barriers to timely and advanced oral-health treatment, including older adults, homebound individuals, medically complex patients, veterans, low-income families, and underserved communities.

Dr. Sousa satisfies the Matter of Dhanasar framework for a National Interest Waiver:

Substantial Merit and National Importance: Dr. Sousa's proposed endeavor directly addresses important oral-health access problems in the United States by expanding the availability of advanced rehabilitation, implantology-related services, and mobility-oriented care for vulnerable populations. The endeavor also includes a future workforce-development component through a clinical training center, thereby extending its impact beyond direct patient treatment. By combining specialized care delivery, mobile outreach, and training, the proposed endeavor aligns with nationally significant concerns involving oral-health access, older-adult care, workforce readiness, and underserved communities.

Well-Positioned to Advance the Proposed Endeavor: Dr. Sousa is exceptionally well positioned to advance this endeavor given his advanced academic preparation, long-standing clinical experience, and proven entrepreneurial record. He is the founder and manager of ACR Odontologia, has served in governance roles within Uniodonto Uberaba, and has built a strong reputation in complex implantology and rehabilitative cases. The record also includes independent support letters from professors, referring dentists, and cooperative personnel confirming his advanced technical ability, successful management of difficult cases, and professional credibility. His compensation history, company growth, and financial-feasibility evidence further demonstrate that he has the operational and financial readiness necessary to implement the proposed endeavor successfully in the United States.

Balancing of Benefits to the United States: Requiring labor certification would be impractical and unnecessary in this case because Dr. Sousa's proposed endeavor is entrepreneurial in nature and depends on his leadership as founder of the venture itself. His work is not confined to a traditional employer-employee framework, and the labor-certification process would not meaningfully assess the national-interest value of a phased oral-health initiative built around specialty care, mobile delivery, workforce training, and public-health-oriented access expansion. Waiving that requirement would allow Dr. Sousa to more promptly implement an endeavor that is viable, scalable, and capable of generating concrete public-health, workforce, and economic benefits in the United States.

In light of these considerations, Dr. Sousa meets all of the criteria for a National Interest Waiver. His efforts through MBR Dentistry will expand access to specialized oral healthcare, support underserved and mobility-limited populations, strengthen future workforce capacity, create jobs, and generate meaningful economic and public-health benefits. We respectfully request that this petition be adjudicated favorably.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Ref: I-140 Immigrant Visa Self-Petition of Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa, as an Advanced Degree Professional, with Request for a National Interest Waiver

Dear Immigration Officer,

Our office respectfully submits this Form I-140 self-petition on behalf of Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa ("Dr. Sousa"), seeking classification in the employment-based second preference category as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree and requesting a National Interest Waiver ("NIW") pursuant to section 203(b)(2)(B)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act ("INA") and interpreted by USCIS in Matter of Dhanasar, 26 I&N Dec. 884 (AAO 2016).

This petition does not ask USCIS to infer national importance merely from the fact that Dr. Sousa is a dentist or that he intends to open a dental business. Rather, it presents a specific and structured proposed endeavor: the development and leadership of MBR Dentistry in Houston, Texas, through a phased oral-health initiative that combines home-based and hospital-integrated oral care, mobile outreach to underserved and low-access communities beginning in Year 3, and the establishment of an advanced rehabilitation and training center by Year 5. As documented in the business plan, this model is directed toward populations that are disproportionately affected by untreated dental disease and access barriers, including older adults, homebound and mobility-limited individuals, medically complex patients, veterans, low-income families, and underserved communities. See Exhibit C.I.

The evidentiary record further demonstrates that Dr. Sousa is not proposing a generic private-practice model. His endeavor is designed to address three interrelated needs that USCIS specifically recognizes as relevant to NIW adjudication in the entrepreneurial context: first, the expansion of access to specialized care in areas where the need for oral-health services is well documented; second, the diffusion of expertise through training, continuing education, and multidisciplinary collaboration; and third, the generation of broader economic, employment, and public-health benefits that extend beyond a single employer or a single patient population. See USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5; Exhibit C.I.

Dr. Sousa is exceptionally well positioned to advance this endeavor. The record shows more than seventeen years of progressive clinical experience in implantology, oral surgery, bone grafting, prosthetic rehabilitation, periodontal procedures, and patient-centered restorative care. It also shows a successful history as founder and manager of an established dental practice, leadership service within Uniodonto Uberaba, ongoing advanced technical training, membership in the International Team for Implantology, independent professional recognition, and substantial financial and operational readiness. See Exhibits A, B, and C.II.

USCIS may grant a national interest waiver where the petitioner establishes, by a preponderance of the evidence, that: (1) the proposed endeavor has both substantial merit and national importance; (2) the petitioner is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor; and (3) on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and labor certification. Matter of Dhanasar, 26 I&N Dec. 884 (AAO 2016); USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(D). As demonstrated below, Dr. Sousa satisfies the EB-2 threshold requirement and each of the three Dhanasar prongs. A favorable adjudication is therefore warranted.

We will establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that Dr. Sousa's proposed endeavor satisfies each prong of the Dhanasar framework. Specifically, the record demonstrates that his endeavor possesses substantial merit and national importance, that he is exceptionally well-positioned to advance it, and that, on balance, the United States would benefit from waiving the job offer and labor certification requirements in his case:

1. Substantial Merit and National Importance: Dr. Sousa's proposed endeavor, through MBR Dentistry, is directed at expanding access to specialized oral healthcare in the United States through a progressive care model that combines home-based and hospital-partnered services, future mobile-unit outreach, and advanced clinical training. His endeavor focuses on implantology, oral surgery, prosthetic rehabilitation, and digital dentistry, all of which address critical needs in the U.S. healthcare landscape, particularly for older adults, homebound individuals, underserved communities, and patients who face barriers to timely access to advanced dental care. In addition to delivering specialized treatment, the endeavor is designed to strengthen the dental workforce by establishing, in its later phase, a clinical training institute dedicated to implantology, prosthodontics, digital dentistry, and mobile care delivery. Accordingly, the proposed endeavor extends beyond the operation of a private practice and seeks to address broader public-health and workforce-development priorities in a manner consistent with the national-interest considerations recognized under Dhanasar.
2. Well-Positioned to Advance the Endeavor: Dr. Sousa is particularly well-positioned to advance this endeavor given his strong combination of academic preparation, extensive clinical experience, entrepreneurial leadership, and professional recognition. He has more than seventeen years of progressive experience in dentistry, with concentrated expertise in implantology, oral rehabilitation, advanced surgical procedures, prosthetic restoration, and patient-centered dental care. He is the founder and manager of ACR Odontologia, a successful private clinic recognized for high patient satisfaction and strong market reputation, and he has also held leadership roles within Uniodonto Uberaba, including service as a Fiscal Councilor and Board Member. His academic credentials further reinforce his qualifications, as his education has been evaluated as equivalent to a U.S. Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D.) and one year of graduate study in Implant Dentistry. Moreover, his membership in the International Team for Implantology (ITI), his continued professional development, his media recognition in oral-health education, and the strong letters of support contained in the record collectively confirm that he has the technical ability, practical experience, credibility, and operational readiness necessary to successfully implement and expand the proposed endeavor in the United States.

3. Balance of Benefits: On balance, waiving the requirements of a job offer and labor certification would be beneficial to the United States. Dr. Sousa's endeavor is entrepreneurial in nature and is structured around the launch and expansion of his own healthcare venture, rather than a traditional employer-sponsored position. Requiring labor certification in this context would not meaningfully serve the national interest and would instead delay the implementation of a project designed to expand access to specialized oral healthcare, support vulnerable populations, create jobs, and contribute to workforce development in a field with ongoing access and training gaps. The record further shows that the proposed endeavor is financially and operationally viable, supported by a structured business plan, initial capital investment, and projected employment creation. Under these circumstances, the benefits of allowing Dr. Sousa to promptly advance his endeavor outweigh the utility of requiring a labor certification process that is not well suited to the nature of his proposed work.

Together, these materials demonstrate, by preponderance of evidence, that Dr. Sousa fully satisfies the requirements for classification under the EB-2 category and merits a favorable exercise of discretion under the National Interest Waiver framework.

1. LEGAL STANDARD - Preponderance of The Evidence

The standard of proof, commonly applied in federal matters, known as the "preponderance of the evidence" standard, is met when the petitioner satisfies the burden of proof by offering evidence that demonstrates that their claims have a greater than 50% chance of being true. In other words, if a piece of evidence can be more likely to be true than false, the burden of proof is met.

Should the evidence fall short of the 51% standard, examiners are encouraged to seek clarifying evidence to allow the petitioner to substantiate their eligibility. The preponderance standard is "rock bottom at the fact-finding level of Electrical litigation." [Matter of E-M, 20 I. & N. Dec. 77 (BIA 1989), at 83 citing Charlton v. FTC, 543 F.2d 903, 907 (D.C.Cir.1976)].

In re M-B-A-, 23 I&N Dec. 474 at 484 (BIA 2002), BIA member Lory Rosenberg explains that preponderance "requires evidence of a greater than 50% chance that an event will occur," citing INS v. Cardoza-Fonseca, 480 U.S. 421, 431 (1987). He further clarifies that preponderance "simply requires the trier of fact to believe that the existence of a fact is more probable than its nonexistence before [he] may find in favor of the party who has the burden to persuade the [judge] of the fact's existence," citing In re Winship, 397 U.S. 358, 371–72 (1970) (Harlan, J., concurring). Unlike higher standards, such as "reasonable doubt" or "clear and convincing evidence," the preponderance standard equitably distributes the risk of error between the parties, as discussed in Metropolitan Stevedore Co. v. Rambo, 521 U.S. 121, 137 (1997).

The evidence presented in this petition strongly suggests that it is more likely than not, or probably true, that Dr. Sousa meets the criteria of the EB-2 category as an individual possessing an advanced degree in his field of endeavor. Furthermore, under the "preponderance of the evidence" standard, it is highly probable that Mr. Sousa qualifies for a waiver of the labor certification requirement under the EB-2 NIW category.

2. DR. SOUSA QUALIFIES FOR THE UNDERLYING EB-2 CLASSIFICATION - ADVANCED DEGREE AND/OR EXCEPTIONAL ABILITY

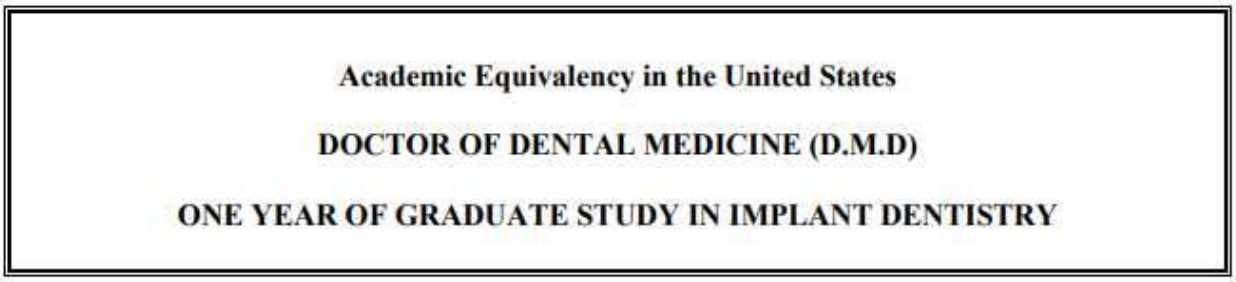

As a threshold matter, Dr. Sousa qualifies for the underlying EB-2 visa classification. USCIS requires a petitioner seeking a national interest waiver to first establish that the beneficiary qualifies for EB-2 classification as either a member of the professions holding an advanced degree or an individual of exceptional ability in the sciences, arts, or business. See USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(D)(1). The present petition satisfies that threshold in the first instance through the advanced-degree pathway, and, in the alternative, the record contains substantial evidence consistent with exceptional ability.

USCIS defines an advanced degree as any United States academic or professional degree or a foreign equivalent degree above that of baccalaureate, or a foreign equivalent bachelor's degree followed by at least five years of progressive post-baccalaureate experience in the specialty. See USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(A). The record satisfies that standard without difficulty.

First, Dr. Sousa earned a professional dentistry degree from the University of Uberaba and completed a post-graduate specialization in Implant Dentistry at HD Ensinos. Most importantly, the independent academic evaluation submitted with this petition concludes that his foreign education is equivalent to a U.S. Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D.) and one year of graduate study in Implant Dentistry. See Exhibit B - Advanced Degree. A D.M.D. is a professional doctoral degree above a baccalaureate level, and the additional graduate-level implantology training further strengthens the advanced-degree showing.

Excerpt from Academic Evaluation confirming equivalency to a U.S. Doctor of Dental Medicine

Academic Equivalency in the United States

DOCTOR OF DENTAL MEDICINE (D.M.D)

ONE YEAR OF GRADUATE STUDY IN IMPLANT DENTISTRY

(D.M.D.) and one year of graduate study in Implant Dentistry.

Second, even if USCIS were to examine the alternative experience-based route, the record demonstrates far more than five years of progressive post-degree experience in the specialty. After graduating in 2008, Dr. Sousa continued in oral surgery and restorative care, operated his own practice from 2011 through 2016, founded and led ACR Odontologia from 2016 onward, and served in governance roles at Uniodonto Uberaba. Those positions show both post-degree continuity and progressively increasing responsibility. See Exhibit B - Work Records.

The record should therefore be read not as a collection of isolated exhibits, but as an integrated narrative demonstrating that Dr. Sousa has developed a specialized clinical profile, transformed that profile into entrepreneurial success, earned durable third-party trust, accumulated implementation resources, and designed a U.S. endeavor that logically extends from all of those achievements. On that view, approval of the petition does not depend on generous inference. It follows from the documentary logic of the case itself.

That consistency is particularly important because founder-led NIW petitions sometimes fail when the record contains a polished plan but weak evidence that the petitioner has ever executed comparable work, or when the petitioner has strong credentials but offers only a vague future proposal. Here, neither problem exists. Dr. Sousa has already spent years treating complex cases, developing a referral reputation, leading a clinic, generating revenue, supervising staff, and building the kind of specialty-oriented practice that makes the proposed endeavor believable. At the same time, the future plan is concrete and phased rather than abstract. This mutual reinforcement between past execution and future design materially reduces uncertainty.

The documentary record in this case is unusually coherent across independent categories of evidence. The academic materials, credential evaluation, work records, and professional license establish the technical foundation. The corporate documents, accountant declaration, tax materials, bank records, and business plan establish entrepreneurial credibility and financial feasibility. The support letters, public interview, and patient-facing review evidence establish external recognition and real-world trust. These categories do not point in different directions. They reinforce one another. When USCIS reviews the petition holistically, as Dhanasar instructs, the result is a consistent picture of a petitioner whose past performance, present readiness, and future plan are tightly aligned.

For clarity and efficiency, this petition proceeds primarily through the advanced-degree route because the independent credential evaluation is already sufficient to establish threshold EB-2 eligibility. The evidentiary record, however, also aligns with several exceptional-ability criteria under 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(3)(ii), including: official academic records related to the field; letters and records demonstrating more than ten years of full-time experience; licensure and professional membership; remuneration indicative of strong market value; and recognition for achievements and significant contributions through third-party letters, patient-facing reputation evidence, and professional visibility. See Exhibits A, B, and C.II.

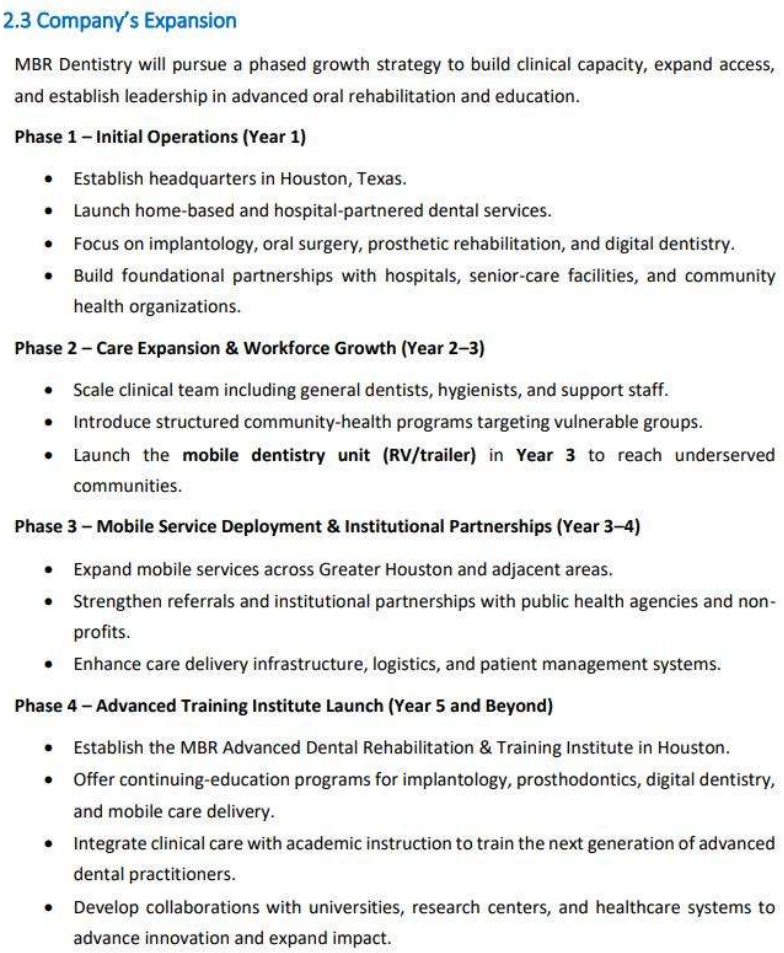

For clarity and consistency, this petition proceeds through the advanced-degree pathway because the independent credential evaluation is sufficient to establish threshold EB-2 eligibility. The record, however, also contains additional evidence that reinforces Dr. Sousa's professional distinction, including licensure, specialized professional membership, sustained remuneration, extensive continuing education, third-party recognition, and more than ten years of full-time experience in the field. Rather than presenting a separate exceptional-ability claim, these materials are addressed below as part of the evidence showing that Dr. Sousa is particularly well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor.

Accordingly, there is no serious question that Dr. Sousa qualifies for the underlying EB-2 classification. USCIS may therefore proceed to the national-interest-waiver inquiry.

3. THE PROPOSED ENDEAVOR IS CONCRETE, EVIDENCE-BASED, AND DISTINCT FROM A GENERIC PRIVATE PRACTICE

USCIS instructs petitioners to describe the proposed endeavor in a straightforward and concrete manner. See USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(D)(1). That standard is fully met here. Dr. Sousa's proposed endeavor is the development and leadership of MBR Dentistry in Houston, Texas, through a phased oral-health initiative aimed at expanding access to advanced oral rehabilitation, implantology-related treatment, prevention-oriented services, and workforce training. See Exhibit C.I.

The business plan makes clear that MBR Dentistry is not simply a storefront clinic seeking routine revenue from conventional dental procedures. It is designed as a progressive delivery model that begins with home-based and hospital-integrated care, expands into a mobile dental unit in Year 3, and culminates in an Advanced Dental Rehabilitation and Training Institute in Year 5. This structure matters because it shows that the endeavor has system-facing and community-facing goals beyond ordinary private practice. See Exhibit C.I.

2.3 Company's Expansion

MBR Dentistry will pursue a phased growth strategy to build clinical capacity, expand access, and establish leadership in advanced oral rehabilitation and education.

Phase 1 – Initial Operations (Year 1)

- Establish headquarters in Houston, Texas.
- Launch home-based and hospital-partnered dental services.
- Focus on implantology, oral surgery, prosthetic rehabilitation, and digital dentistry.
- Build foundational partnerships with hospitals, senior-care facilities, and community health organizations.

Phase 2 – Care Expansion & Workforce Growth (Year 2–3)

- Scale clinical team including general dentists, hygienists, and support staff.
- Introduce structured community-health programs targeting vulnerable groups.
- Launch the mobile dentistry unit (RV/trailer) in Year 3 to reach underserved communities.

Phase 3 – Mobile Service Deployment & Institutional Partnerships (Year 3–4)

- Expand mobile services across Greater Houston and adjacent areas.
- Strengthen referrals and institutional partnerships with public health agencies and non-profits.
- Enhance care delivery infrastructure, logistics, and patient management systems.

Phase 4 – Advanced Training Institute Launch (Year 5 and Beyond)

- Establish the MBR Advanced Dental Rehabilitation & Training Institute in Houston.
- Offer continuing-education programs for implantology, prosthodontics, digital dentistry, and mobile care delivery.
- Integrate clinical care with academic instruction to train the next generation of advanced dental practitioners.
- Develop collaborations with universities, research centers, and healthcare systems to advance innovation and expand impact.

Phased implementation model of MBR Dentistry: home/hospital-based care, mobile outreach, and future training center.

In its first phase, MBR Dentistry will focus on patients who are commonly underserved by traditional specialty dental models: seniors, mobility-limited persons, medically complex patients, and individuals whose systemic conditions or transportation constraints make ordinary office-based access more difficult. The business plan explains that these patients often need implantology, prosthetic rehabilitation, infection-control support, and surgical interventions, yet frequently face meaningful barriers to receiving coordinated care. See Exhibit C.I.

In Year 3, the venture adds a mobile dental unit capable of delivering preventive care, restorative services, and certain surgical procedures directly in underserved neighborhoods, senior-care facilities, and community health settings. This feature is particularly significant because it extends the endeavor's impact beyond patients who can independently travel to specialty offices. It also aligns with federal interest in teledentistry, mobility-oriented access models, and delivery innovations for shortage settings. See Exhibit C.I.; HHS Telehealth for Oral Health.

In Year 5, MBR Dentistry adds a dedicated training and continuing-education component. The record describes a permanent facility that will support both patient treatment and hands-on training in implantology, prosthodontics, digital workflows, and related clinical techniques. That phase is crucial to the NIW analysis because it transforms the endeavor from an enterprise that benefits only its own patient flow into one that diffuses knowledge and strengthens the clinical capacity of the broader dental workforce. See Exhibit C.I.

The business plan also provides concrete staffing, financial, and implementation detail. It projects growth from four direct personnel positions in Year 1 to nineteen direct jobs by Year 5, with approximately thirty-nine indirect jobs based on the economic multiplier applied in the plan. It projects total sales increasing from $520,500 in Year 1 to $2,786,734 in Year 5, combined tax contributions of approximately $700,197 during the first five years, and net profit growth from $51,934 in Year 1 to $246,023 in Year 5. These figures are supported by the plan's staffing tables, financial statements, and phased growth narrative. See Exhibit C.I.

Detailed below are the direct and indirect job projections year by year.

Direct and Indirect Jobs	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
Total Direct People	4	8	11	16	19
Total Indirect People (EPI)	8	16	22	33	39

Projected staffing growth and job creation under the MBR Dentistry business plan.

The business plan further reflects operational realism. It identifies a total initial capital requirement of $39,500, allocates startup expenses among legal, insurance, portable clinical equipment, digital tools, vehicle expenses, branding, and working capital, and then ties future investment to the mobile unit and training center. This is precisely the kind of detail USCIS identifies as useful in the entrepreneurial NIW context, particularly when supported by independent financial evidence. See Exhibit C.I; USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(D)(6).

For all of these reasons, the proposed endeavor is concrete, internally coherent, and sufficiently specific for NIW adjudication. It is also meaningfully distinct from a generic assertion that dental care is important. The record shows what Dr. Sousa will do, whom he aims to serve, how he plans to scale, why the model addresses real barriers in the United States, and why his role is central to the venture's success.

4. FIRST PRONG: THE PROPOSED ENDEAVOR HAS BOTH SUBSTANTIAL MERIT AND NATIONAL IMPORTANCE

Under Dhanasar, the first prong asks whether the specific proposed endeavor has both substantial merit and national importance. The analysis must focus on the endeavor itself, not merely on the general importance of dentistry or healthcare as a field. Here, the record satisfies that standard because MBR Dentistry is not presented as a generic private-practice venture. Rather, it is a phased oral-health initiative designed to expand access to specialized oral rehabilitation, implantology-related treatment, home-based and hospital-integrated care, mobile outreach, and future workforce training for populations that face meaningful barriers to advanced oral-health services. See Exhibit C.I.

4.1. Substantial Merit of the Proposed Endeavor

The substantial merit of Dr. Sousa's proposed endeavor is clear. USCIS recognizes that endeavors in health, business, entrepreneurship, and education may all satisfy this aspect of the first prong. MBR Dentistry operates at the intersection of those nationally relevant domains. It advances health by providing specialized oral surgery, implantology, prosthetic rehabilitation, prevention-oriented services, and continuity-focused care to patients whose conditions often require more coordinated treatment than conventional office models readily provide. It advances entrepreneurship by establishing a scalable oral-health venture with phased implementation, portable equipment, later mobile deployment, and operational expansion over time. It advances education by planning a future clinical rehabilitation and training center designed to support continuing education and hands-on development in advanced oral-health techniques. See Exhibit C.I.

The proposed endeavor is also meritorious because it responds to practical and well-documented access barriers that can worsen oral-health outcomes. The business plan explains that the venture's early phases will focus on home-based and hospital-integrated care for older adults, homebound individuals, medically complex patients, and underserved communities. These are populations for whom delayed treatment can result in avoidable deterioration, more complex rehabilitation needs, and disruption of oral function, comfort, and quality of life. By targeting those barriers directly, the endeavor addresses more than ordinary consumer demand. It addresses a healthcare-delivery problem with broader relevance to continuity of care, prevention, and access to specialized treatment. See Exhibit C.I.

The business plan further makes clear that MBR Dentistry is not simply a static office-based clinic. It is structured as a progressive delivery model that begins with home-based and hospital-integrated care, expands into a mobile dental unit in Year 3, and culminates in an Advanced Dental Rehabilitation and Training Institute in Year 5. This phased structure matters because it shows that the endeavor was designed from the outset to expand access, strengthen continuity of care, and build future clinical capacity beyond an ordinary private-practice model. See Exhibit C.I.

Although this petition does not rely on a DHS-designated STEM classification, the proposed endeavor reflects technology-driven and innovation-oriented features relevant to modern healthcare delivery. The record describes the use of digital workflows, advanced implantology protocols, portable clinical equipment, and later mobile-service deployment, all of which reinforce that MBR Dentistry is designed as a contemporary and adaptive oral-health model rather than a conventional static clinic. These features further support the substantial merit of the proposed endeavor.

Accordingly, the endeavor has substantial merit because it advances public health, specialized patient care, workforce development, and a modern entrepreneurial model directed to identified access gaps in the United States.

4.2. National Importance in Light of National Oral-Health Priorities

The endeavor also has national importance because it responds to conditions that federal authorities continue to identify as significant and widespread. Healthy People 2030 explicitly includes improving access to oral-health care among its national objectives and recognizes that untreated oral-health conditions can cause pain, disability, and broader health consequences. CDC materials likewise explain that oral disease remains common, preventable, and unevenly distributed, with especially heavy burdens falling on lower-income adults, older adults, and other vulnerable populations. See Healthy People 2030, Oral Conditions; CDC, About Oral Health; CDC, Cavity Facts.

That federal concern is directly relevant here. CDC reports that one in five adults ages 20 to 64 has at least one untreated cavity, and that one in six adults age 65 or older has untreated cavities. It also reports that low-income adults experience untreated decay at rates far above those of higher-income adults, and that older-adult subgroups often face especially elevated burdens. These findings matter because MBR Dentistry is specifically directed toward populations whose oral-health burdens and access barriers are already recognized at the national level. See CDC, About Cavities; CDC, Untreated Cavities in Adults; CDC, Untreated Cavities in Older Adults; CDC, Low-Income Adults Aged 20–64 Years Have More Untreated Cavities.

The proposed endeavor's model closely matches those identified national concerns. CDC explains that oral-health challenges tend to increase with age because of chronic disease, reduced dexterity, cognitive limitations, visual difficulties, and other factors that complicate routine access and self-care. That observation directly supports the first operational phase of MBR Dentistry, which emphasizes home-based and hospital-integrated care for elderly, mobility-limited, and medically complex patients. This is not an incidental overlap. It shows a direct relationship between a nationally recognized healthcare problem and the service model proposed in the record. See CDC, Oral Health Tips for Adults; Exhibit C.I.

The national importance of the endeavor is further reinforced by broader federal health-policy materials. NIDCR's Oral Health in America: Advances and Challenges underscores that oral health is integral to overall health, that inequities in access and outcomes remain substantial, and that innovation in care delivery remains important to improving public-health outcomes. HHS guidance on telehealth and oral health similarly recognizes the importance of care models that improve access, triage, follow-up, and continuity for populations who may not easily reach conventional service settings. Together, those sources support the proposition that MBR Dentistry's focus on specialty rehabilitation, mobility-oriented access, and later training capacity addresses concerns that extend well beyond one office or one local patient base. See NIDCR, Oral Health in America: Advances and Challenges; HHS Telehealth for Oral Health.

The demographic context in Texas further reinforces national importance. U.S. Census QuickFacts shows that both Harris County and Texas have large and growing populations, including substantial older-adult populations, veterans, and communities likely to face language, income, transportation, or continuity-of-care barriers. The significance of a venture focused on advanced oral rehabilitation, home-oriented care, and later mobile expansion is therefore not speculative. It is tied to populations whose needs reflect broader national trends involving aging, chronic disease, and unequal access to specialized care. See U.S. Census QuickFacts for Harris County, Texas; U.S. Census QuickFacts for Texas.

The target populations served by MBR Dentistry further reinforce that broader significance. The endeavor is directed toward older adults, homebound individuals, medically complex patients, veterans, low-income families, and underserved communities. These are not incidental marketing categories. They are groups that are more likely to experience delays in diagnosis, treatment disruption, transportation barriers, limited access to specialty care, and worsening oral-health outcomes over time. A model specifically designed to move specialty care closer to those patients through home-based, hospital-integrated, and later mobile delivery addresses a problem with implications that extend beyond a single clinic's commercial success

4.3. Workforce Development, Job Creation, and Broader Economic Impact

National importance is also supported by the endeavor's workforce and economic implications. Dhanasar expressly recognizes that an endeavor with significant potential to employ U.S. workers or to generate substantial positive economic effects may satisfy the national-importance inquiry. The business plan reflects exactly those types of prospective benefits. It projects growth from four direct jobs in Year 1 to nineteen direct jobs by Year 5, together with approximately thirty-nine indirect jobs associated with the venture's operations and multiplier effects. See Matter of Dhanasar, 26 I&N Dec. 884, 890; Exhibit C.I.

Those projections are paired with meaningful financial growth. The business plan projects sales increasing from $520,500 in Year 1 to $2,786,734 in Year 5, net profit growth from $51,934 to $246,023, and combined tax contributions of approximately $700,197 during the first five years. These figures are relevant not because private profitability alone establishes national importance, but because they show that the venture is expected to create jobs, support related economic activity, and generate sustained contributions tied to healthcare delivery and expansion. See Exhibit C.I.

Five-year revenue, profitability, and tax contribution projections for MBR Dentistry.

The workforce-development dimension of the endeavor is particularly important. Healthy People 2030, HRSA, and BLS materials all reflect the continuing national relevance of access, prevention, and workforce capacity in oral health. BLS projects continued demand for dentists and dental hygienists, in part because larger numbers of older adults will require services and because the connection between oral health and overall health continues to receive greater emphasis. MBR Dentistry responds to that need not only through direct hiring, but also through its planned training center, which is intended to support continuing education and higher-level skill development in implantology, prosthodontics, digital dentistry, and coordinated rehabilitative care. See BLS, Dentists; BLS, Dental Hygienists; Exhibit C.I.

This matters because the endeavor's benefits are not limited to the patients Dr. Sousa will personally treat. Its later-phase training function is designed to transfer knowledge, strengthen field-wide competence, and improve future service capacity among U.S.-based professionals. That broader prospective effect makes the endeavor more significant than a static office-based practice whose impact ends at its own patient volume.

4.4. Replicability and Prospective Impact Beyond a Single Office

Finally, the endeavor has national importance because its prospective impact extends beyond a single office location or a narrow private patient base. The business plan repeatedly frames MBR Dentistry as a phased and replicable model combining direct specialty care, home- and hospital-integrated services, later mobile deployment, and a future training and rehabilitation center. Under Dhanasar, even an endeavor that begins locally may still be nationally important if it addresses broader field-level problems and offers a model capable of expansion, replication, or influence across similarly situated communities. The record supports that conclusion here. See Exhibit C.I.

The significance of MBR Dentistry does not depend solely on how many patients are seen at one location in Houston. It lies in the development of a care model that can expand access, improve continuity for vulnerable patients, strengthen training capacity, and provide a framework for similarly underserved settings. This broader field-facing and community-facing impact is one of the clearest reasons why the proposed endeavor rises above the level of a generic private dental practice.

For all of these reasons, the first prong is fully satisfied. MBR Dentistry has substantial merit because it advances health, entrepreneurship, education, and healthcare-delivery innovation. It has national importance because it addresses nationally recognized oral-health disparities, target populations with documented access barriers, workforce needs, and a prospective model of specialty care that reaches beyond a single employer or a single office environment.

4.5 Technology-Driven and Innovation-Oriented Features of the Proposed Endeavor - STEM

Although this petition does not rely on a DHS-designated STEM classification, the proposed endeavor incorporates technology-driven and innovation-oriented features that reinforce its practical sophistication and national relevance. USCIS recognizes that the NIW analysis remains the same regardless of whether an endeavor is formally presented as STEM, and that considerations commonly associated with STEM-related innovation may still be relevant where the record demonstrates their applicability.

Here, MBR Dentistry is designed to incorporate digital workflows, advanced implantology protocols, portable clinical equipment, mobile-service deployment, and a later training component focused on specialized rehabilitative techniques. These features show that the proposed endeavor is not a conventional static dental practice, but rather a modern and adaptive oral-health model that integrates technology, specialized clinical methods, and scalable delivery strategies to expand access to advanced care in the United States.

5. SECOND PRONG: DR. SOUSA IS WELL POSITIONED TO ADVANCE THE PROPOSED ENDEAVOR

The second Dhanasar prong asks whether the petitioner is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor. USCIS considers the person's education, skills, knowledge, and record of success in related or similar efforts; the existence of a detailed proposal or plan; progress toward the endeavor; and the interest or support of customers, users, investors, or other relevant entities. The present record satisfies this prong in multiple, mutually reinforcing ways.

5.1. Academic Preparation, Licensure, Professional Membership, and Specialized Training

Dr. Sousa's academic preparation is directly aligned with the proposed endeavor. He is not attempting to pivot into a new field. His dentistry degree, post-graduate specialization in Implant Dentistry, and independent academic evaluation show a deep and formal foundation in the precise professional domain in which MBR Dentistry will operate. As reflected in the record, his foreign education has been evaluated as equivalent to a U.S. Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D.) and one year of graduate study in Implant Dentistry. That graduate-level implantology training is particularly important because the proposed endeavor centers on advanced oral rehabilitation, implant placement, grafting, and related procedures rather than on routine general dentistry alone. See Exhibit B - Advanced Degree.

His qualifications are reinforced by formal professional standing. Dr. Sousa is licensed through the Regional Council of Dentistry of Minas Gerais under CRO-MG 36535, and he is a member of the International Team for Implantology (ITI), a specialized professional association directly relevant to the field in which he proposes to continue contributing. These materials confirm that he has not only academic preparation, but also recognized professional standing within the specialty area most closely tied to the proposed endeavor. See Exhibit C.II.

The record also demonstrates sustained technical development over time. Dr. Sousa's continuing-education history includes training in implantology, periodontal surgery, restorative dentistry, oral rehabilitation, esthetic smile protocols, contact lenses and ceramic veneers, facial filling and botulinum toxin, and related clinical areas. This breadth does not dilute the implantology core of the endeavor. Instead, it shows that he has continued to develop a modern, multidisciplinary oral-rehabilitation profile responsive to patient needs, technological change, and clinical integration. That sustained and specialized development strongly supports the conclusion that he is well positioned to carry out a venture focused on advanced oral-health care in the United States. See Exhibit C.II.

5.2. Progressive Professional Experience and Leadership

Dr. Sousa's record of progressive practical experience is equally compelling. He has worked in oral surgery, implantology, restorative dentistry, prosthetic rehabilitation, and patient-centered dental care since 2007. The record documents a continuous progression from assistant in complex oral procedures, to full-time dentist, to private-practice owner, to founder and sole owner of ACR Odontologia, to governance participant in Uniodonto Uberaba. This is precisely the type of progression USCIS finds persuasive because it shows that past achievements are closely tied to the future endeavor. See Exhibits A and B.

The work records establish that Dr. Sousa developed in increasingly complex and responsible settings. His early experience in the clinic of Dr. Marcelo Luiz Ribeiro de Melo exposed him to complex bone reconstruction surgeries, implant-related procedures, impacted tooth extractions, and oral rehabilitation. He then maintained a private practice focused on oral surgery, implant placement, periodontal surgery, restorative care, and prosthetic work. Since 2016, he has served as founder, owner, and dental surgeon of ACR Odontologia, where he combines advanced clinical practice with personnel management, patient-flow supervision, and business operations. See Exhibit B - Work Records.

His leadership experience extends beyond private practice. The record shows that he served as Fiscal Councilor and later as Board Member at Uniodonto Uberaba, while also providing dental services to the cooperative over a long period. These roles are probative because they show experience not only in clinical care, but also in governance, quality oversight, and system-level health-service operations. That combination is especially relevant for a proposed endeavor that contemplates not just patient treatment, but also mobile outreach, partnerships, and future training capacity. See Exhibit B - Work Records.

5.3. Entrepreneurial Record, Market Validation, and Public Recognition

Dr. Sousa's entrepreneurial record is especially probative in the NIW context. The business plan is not speculative in the abstract. It is grounded in a record of already having built and managed a successful dental company. ACR Odontologia's corporate records show continuity and control, including the later consolidation of the company under Dr. Sousa's sole ownership. See Exhibit B - Work Records.

The record also shows meaningful market validation of his work. His résumé states that ACR Odontologia became the clinic with the highest number of Google reviews in the city while maintaining a five-star rating. Although consumer reviews are not a substitute for expert evidence, they are useful in corroborating patient trust, consistency of service, and the ability to sustain demand over time. In an entrepreneurial NIW petition, those considerations matter because they help show that the petitioner has already proven capable of attracting and retaining a client base through his expertise and reputation. See Exhibit A; Exhibit C.II.

His public-facing recognition further supports this conclusion. The record includes evidence that he was invited to appear on TV Integração, a local Rede Globo affiliate, during a live program on International Health Day to discuss oral-health issues and public guidance. The probative value of that appearance is not celebrity. It is that he was regarded as a credible professional voice capable of communicating oral-health information to the broader public.

Because MBR Dentistry includes preventive, community-facing, and educational dimensions, that type of professional visibility reinforces his positioning to advance the endeavor successfully. See Exhibit C.II.

5.4. Compensation, Revenue Growth, and Market-Based Economic Validation

The accountant's declaration is especially useful because it shows that ACR Odontologia has grown steadily over time and that Dr. Sousa has commanded meaningful remuneration for his work. The record reflects net income of R$93,046.73 in 2022, R$117,278.38 in 2023, and R$116,106.08 in 2024, while company revenue grew from R$194,430.00 in 2022 to R$362,255.24 in 2023 and R$509,619.31 in 2024. That pattern is not merely financial background. It is independent evidence that he has already built a viable dental enterprise and generated sustained market demand through his expertise. See Exhibit C.II - High Salary.

This compensation evidence is further strengthened when viewed against external market indicators from Brazil, which is the relevant comparison point for the income documented in the record. Portal Salário reports that, in Brazil, the average monthly wage for a Cirurgião Dentista - Clínico Geral is approximately R$5,760.46, while the average monthly wage for a Cirurgião Dentista - Periodontista is approximately R$4,121.72. By contrast, Dr. Sousa's documented 2024 net income corresponds to approximately R$9,675.51 per month, based on the accountant's declaration submitted in the record. Although employee-based salary benchmarks are not a perfect one-to-one proxy for the income of a practice owner, this comparison is still probative because it shows that Dr. Sousa's market-based earnings in Brazil were meaningfully above national employee averages in related dental categories. When considered together with the sustained revenue growth of ACR Odontologia, this evidence further supports that he has already translated his clinical expertise into above-average economic value, patient demand, and entrepreneurial credibility. See Exhibit C.II - High Salary.

- 2022: R$ [93,046.73] – NET INCOME IN THE INCOME TAX RETURN
- 2023: R$[117,278.38] – NET INCOME IN THE INCOME TAX RETURN
- 2024: R$ [116,106.08] – NET INCOME IN THE INCOME TAX RETURN

Accountant-certified evidence of Dr. Sousa's income and ACR Odontologia's sustained revenue growth.

5.5. Financial Readiness and Plan for Future Activities

His operational readiness is further reinforced by the financial-feasibility materials and by the structure of the business plan itself. The record contains liquidity evidence, including a SICREDI investment statement showing R$150,000 in ACR Odontologia-held funds and additional bank records. When read together with the business plan's identified startup capital requirement of $39,500, these documents provide credible evidence that the proposed venture is financially feasible and that Dr. Sousa has practical access to resources sufficient to begin implementation. See Exhibit C.II - Financial Feasibility.

The business plan also provides a concrete plan for future activities rather than a vague aspiration. In Year 1, MBR Dentistry will operate through home-based and hospital-integrated oral-health services directed toward populations with significant access barriers. In Year 3, the venture will add a mobile dental unit to reach underserved neighborhoods, senior-care settings, and community-based environments. In Year 5, it will establish an Advanced Dental Rehabilitation and Training Institute designed to provide both treatment and continuing education in implantology, prosthodontics, digital workflows, and related rehabilitative techniques. That phased implementation plan is supported by staffing projections, startup-capital allocation, financial statements, target-population descriptions, and expansion milestones. Taken together, these are exactly the types of materials USCIS expects to see in a founder-led NIW case. See Exhibit C.I.

Importantly, this financial and operational evidence does more than show liquidity. It also shows continuity between Dr. Sousa's past and future professional efforts. His present resources were not accumulated through an unrelated field or passive investment. They are the product of the very specialty practice, patient trust, and business management experience that form the foundation of MBR Dentistry. In that sense, the financial materials are not ancillary to the NIW claim. They are part of the proof that his proposed endeavor is a credible next step arising out of an already demonstrated record of success.

5.6. INDEPENDENT EXPERT TESTIMONIALS SUPPORTING THE PETITIONER'S QUALIFICATIONS AND IMPACT

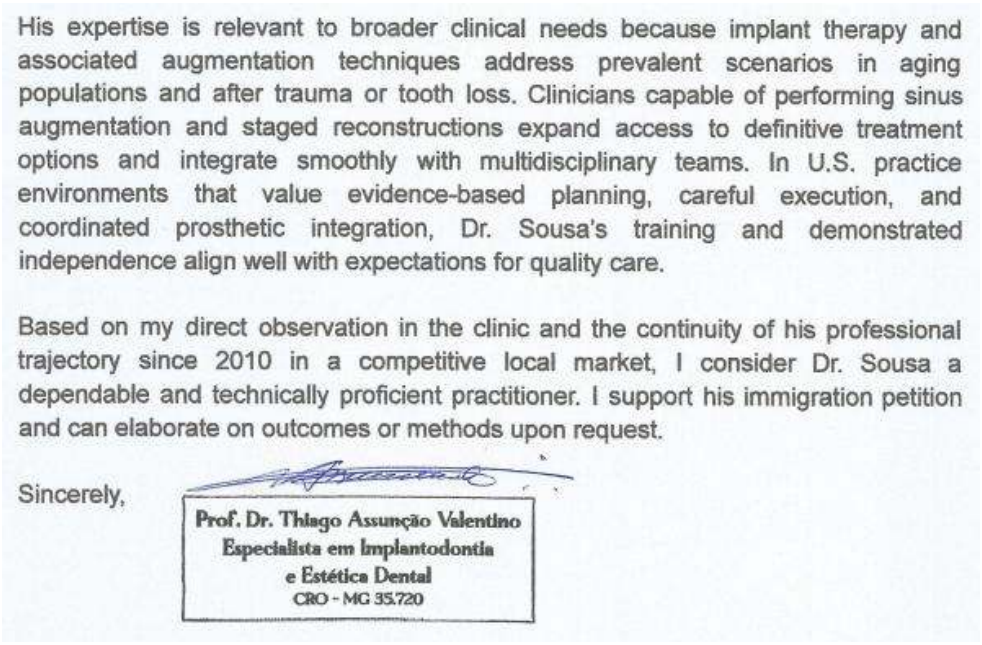

The record contains unusually strong third-party support from professionals who have first-hand knowledge of Dr. Sousa's work. The support letters submitted here do exactly that. They are not conclusory. They describe observed procedures, referral relationships, outcomes, and the practical value of Dr. Sousa's work in real clinical settings. See Exhibit C.II - Letters of Support.

Dr. Ana Gabriela Batista Campos Puhler, a dentist, clinic owner, and professor at the University of Uberaba with graduate training in orthodontics and pediatric dentistry, explains that she came to know Dr. Sousa through Uniodonto referrals for difficult third-molar extractions and later expanded those referrals to implant cases after receiving consistently positive postoperative feedback from patients. She reports that his tissue handling, field management, organized workflow, and perioperative protocols reduced chair time and patient anxiety and resulted in an absence of postoperative complaints among patients she referred. She further explains that his participation allowed her clinic to internalize complex procedures, reduce outside referrals, improve scheduling efficiency, lower operational costs, and strengthen patient retention. That letter is highly probative because it ties his technical skill directly to practical improvements in care delivery and clinic operations, precisely the type of effect the proposed endeavor seeks to scale in the United States. See Exhibit C.II - Letter of Support from Dr. Ana Gabriela Batista Campos Puhler.

Dr. Luis Henrique Borges, Director of the undergraduate Dentistry course at the University of Uberaba and a professor who taught Dr. Sousa in removable prosthesis, confirms that even during undergraduate training Dr. Sousa showed strong practical aptitude, assimilated the discipline's theoretical content effectively, and took the initiative to adjust his schedule to obtain additional clinical exposure under the supervision of an implantology professor. Dr.

Borges concludes that Dr. Sousa made appropriate use of the educational and clinical opportunities available to him and possesses foundational training compatible with professional practice in regulated environments, including those in the United States. While this letter is more academic in tone than others, it is important because it confirms that the proposed endeavor rests on a long-established foundation of disciplined study, clinical initiative, and prosthetic competence. See Exhibit C.II - Letter of Support from Dr. Luis Henrique Borges.

Professor Thiago Assunção Valentino, a faculty member in Dentistry at the University of Uberaba and holder of a Ph.D. in Clinical Dentistry, provides particularly strong evidence regarding Dr. Sousa's advanced surgical skill. Professor Valentino first taught Dr. Sousa in restorative dentistry and later trained alongside him for twenty-four months in the same implantology specialization program, where they acted as clinical partners and directly observed one another's surgeries. He states that he personally observed Dr. Sousa perform extractions, single and multiple implant placements, sinus floor elevation by crestal and lateral approaches, several types of bone reconstruction, and subsequent prosthetic rehabilitation. Most significantly, Professor Valentino states that, during that specialization, Dr. Sousa's performance was "already comparable to that of an early-career specialist rather than a trainee," and that his understanding of biomaterial behavior was uncommon among general practitioners who pursue implantology. This testimony is directly relevant to the proposed endeavor, which depends on exactly those competencies in advanced rehabilitation and implantology. See Exhibit C.II - Letter of Support from Prof. Dr. Thiago Assunção Valentino.

His expertise is relevant to broader clinical needs because implant therapy and associated augmentation techniques address prevalent scenarios in aging populations and after trauma or tooth loss. Clinicians capable of performing sinus augmentation and staged reconstructions expand access to definitive treatment options and integrate smoothly with multidisciplinary teams. In U.S. practice environments that value evidence-based planning, careful execution, and coordinated prosthetic integration, Dr. Sousa's training and demonstrated independence align well with expectations for quality care.

Based on my direct observation in the clinic and the continuity of his professional trajectory since 2010 in a competitive local market, I consider Dr. Sousa a dependable and technically proficient practitioner. I support his immigration petition and can elaborate on outcomes or methods upon request.

Sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Thiago Assunção Valentino
Especialista em Implantodontia
e Estética Dental
CRO - MG 35.720

Dr. Rosa Maria da Silva, a dentist at OrtoClean and professor in Pediatric Dentistry at the University of Uberaba, likewise provides concrete, outcome-based support. She explains that she first supervised Dr. Sousa during his final-year internship and later entrusted him with the surgical extraction of her daughters' third molars. She reports that both procedures were efficient and complication-free and that the recoveries were smooth. She also describes subsequent referrals of implant patients to Dr. Sousa, including a recent complex case involving her brother, who had a cardiac history and required a maxillary sinus graft before implant placement. According to her letter, Dr. Sousa planned the case conservatively, coordinated care with proper attention to the systemic condition, performed the sinus augmentation and implant surgery with excellent outcomes, and produced surgical sites that were ideal for timely prosthetic restoration. She adds that implant cases coming from his practice are "stable and well-positioned," improving patient satisfaction and reducing the likelihood of corrective interventions. See Exhibit C.II - Letter of Support from Dr. Rosa Maria da Silva.

Dr. Sandra Marisa Santos Leal Jacinto, Coordinator of Local Auditing and Referrals at Uniodonto Uberaba, provides a different but equally valuable perspective. Because her role involves auditing treatment claims and overseeing complex referrals across the cooperative, she has had sustained visibility into Dr. Sousa's cases over a period of years. She explains that his work became associated with protocol compliance, documentation adherence, and clear patient communication. Most notably, she states that, over the last five years, Uniodonto frequently turned to Dr. Sousa to take over complex cases requiring resolution and patient recovery and that he consistently "corrected the clinical problems, stabilized the cases, and rebuilt patient trust." She further notes that his files show appropriate planning and execution, thereby reducing the need for corrective interventions and optimizing cooperative resources. This letter is highly probative because it reflects a quality-assurance and systems-review perspective rather than a purely collegial one. See Exhibit C.II - Letter of Support from Dr. Sandra Marisa Santos Leal Jacinto.

These letters, considered together, establish several critical points. They show that Dr. Sousa has been trusted by independent professionals for complex extractions, implants, grafting, sinus augmentation, rehabilitative planning, and the rescue of problematic cases. They show that his work has generated positive clinical outcomes, patient trust, efficient case flow, and lower corrective burden. They show that he can function effectively across referral relationships, multidisciplinary settings, and oversight environments. And they show that his expertise is already recognized by those who have strong incentives to be accurate when evaluating technical competence. In the aggregate, that is powerful evidence that he is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor in the United States.

Accordingly, the second prong is fully satisfied. Dr. Sousa possesses the education, licensure, specialized training, entrepreneurial experience, market validation, financial readiness, leadership background, and strong independent expert support needed to advance MBR Dentistry in a credible and effective manner.

The following excerpts are included because they illustrate, in concise form, the type of direct, first-hand observations contained in the submitted support letters.

- Professor Valentino reported that during implantology training Dr. Sousa's performance was "already comparable to that of early-career specialists rather than trainees."
- Dr. Rosa Maria explained that implant cases coming from Dr. Sousa's practice were "stable and well-positioned," a factor that improved patient satisfaction and reduced the likelihood of corrective interventions.

- Dr. Sandra Marisa stated that Dr. Sousa consistently accepted difficult cooperative referrals, “corrected the clinical problems, stabilized the cases, and rebuilt trust.”
- Dr. Luis Henrique Borges concluded that Dr. Sousa possesses foundational training compatible with professional practice in regulated dental environments, including those in the United States.

Importantly, this financial evidence does more than show liquidity. It also shows continuity between Arthur’s past and future professional efforts. His present resources were not accumulated through an unrelated field or passive investment. They are the product of the very specialty practice, patient trust, and business management experience that form the foundation of MBR Dentistry. In that sense, the financial materials are not ancillary to the NIW claim. They are part of the proof that his proposed endeavor is a credible next step arising out of an already demonstrated record of success.

Financial-readiness evidence likewise supports implementation capacity. The record includes business and personal financial materials, including liquidity evidence demonstrating approximately R$150,000 held in company investment accounts. When paired with the business plan’s startup capital requirement of $39,500, those materials indicate that the proposed endeavor is not dependent on vague future hopes or unidentified capital sources. Instead, the record shows feasible access to the resources needed for early execution. USCIS has specifically noted that proof of funding or access to capital is relevant in assessing whether an entrepreneurial petitioner is well positioned to move from planning to implementation. That factor weighs decisively in Dr. Sousa’s favor.

The same materials also strengthen the entrepreneurial aspects of the record. A frequent weakness in founder-led petitions is the absence of proof that the petitioner has actually operated a viable business or generated meaningful revenue before asking USCIS to accept a future plan. That weakness is not present here. The ACR Odontologia records show an existing history of clinic management, staff supervision, and growing revenue over time. The fact that Arthur has already managed employees, worked with partner dentists, maintained patient demand, and achieved sustained income materially reduces the speculative element that is often present in early-stage business petitions.

6. THIRD PRONG: ON BALANCE, IT WOULD BE BENEFICIAL TO THE UNITED STATES TO WAIVE THE JOB OFFER AND LABOR CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

The third Dhanasar prong asks whether, on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and labor certification. See Matter of Dhanasar, 26 I&N Dec. at 890-91; USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(D)(4). This is not a requirement that the petitioner prove the complete absence of qualified U.S. workers. Rather, the question is whether the national-interest benefits of the proposed endeavor and the petitioner’s particular ability to advance it outweigh the usual interests served by the labor certification framework. Here, that balance strongly favors waiver.

First, the proposed endeavor is founder-driven and entrepreneurially structured. MBR Dentistry is not a preexisting, ordinary employee position in an already operating U.S. company. It is a phased oral-health venture that depends on Dr. Sousa’s own combination of specialized surgical expertise, referral credibility, business leadership, and long-developed clinical focus. Requiring a conventional job offer and PERM process would force a founder-led public-health and specialty-care initiative into a framework designed for ordinary employer-employee recruitment, which is a poor fit for the actual structure of the endeavor.

Second, the benefit offered by Dr. Sousa is not exhausted by filling one clinical chair or serving one employer's internal needs. MBR Dentistry's benefits extend to multiple public-facing and system-facing domains: expanded access to advanced oral rehabilitation for underserved populations; home-based and hospital-integrated service delivery for patients who face persistent access barriers; later mobile service expansion; training and continuing education for U.S.-based professionals; partnerships with hospitals, senior facilities, and community organizations; and job creation in a healthcare segment shaped by aging-population demand. The national-interest value therefore lies in the implementation of the venture itself and in the layered public-health, workforce, and economic effects it is designed to generate.

Third, the proposed endeavor addresses conditions for which delay is itself harmful. The record and the public-health authorities discussed elsewhere in this petition show that untreated oral disease leads to pain, disability, functional decline, and reduced quality of life, and that these burdens fall disproportionately on older adults, low-income populations, and medically vulnerable groups. In that context, waiving the labor-certification requirement facilitates more prompt implementation of an endeavor specifically designed to alleviate those pressures through a mobility-oriented and access-focused specialty-care model.

Fourth, the record demonstrates that Dr. Sousa offers a particular combination of attributes that is not meaningfully captured by the mere existence of other dental professionals in the market. He is not simply one more dentist proposing general services. He is an implantology-focused clinician and practice founder with a documented history of resolving complex referrals, operating a successful specialty-oriented clinic, managing a cooperative-based care relationship, and planning a venture that combines direct service, mobility-oriented access, and future workforce training. The support letters reinforce this founder-specific value: independent professionals describe him as a trusted destination for difficult extractions, implant cases, grafting, rehabilitative planning, and the rescue of problematic cases. That evidence shows that the value he brings is not generic. It is tied to a demonstrated history of specialty care, reliability, and structured clinical judgment.

Fifth, the labor-certification framework would not meaningfully test the actual national-interest value at issue here. PERM is designed to protect the domestic labor market in the context of a defined job opportunity offered by a U.S. employer to a foreign worker. Here, however, the proposed endeavor involves company creation, service-model design, mobile expansion, training development, partnership-building, and phased operational leadership. The value of the endeavor lies not merely in who could theoretically occupy a job title, but in the founder's role in conceptualizing, financing, organizing, and advancing a venture whose benefits extend well beyond one position description. In that sense, the job-offer and labor-certification mechanism is structurally ill-suited to measuring the national-interest contribution presented here.

Sixth, the waiver is also beneficial because it preserves the flexibility needed for a venture that must adapt to real-world demand patterns, referral relationships, and community partnerships. The business plan anticipates growth from home-based and hospital-integrated care into a mobile unit and then a training-and-rehabilitation center. Those phases will require Dr. Sousa to shape staffing, community outreach, scheduling, geographic deployment, service mix, and educational programming in response to operational realities. A rigid employer-specific framework would constrain that process rather than facilitate it. By contrast, the NIW mechanism allows the petitioner to remain accountable to the endeavor itself and to the public-facing benefits it is designed to produce.

Seventh, the balance is especially favorable because the value of the endeavor extends over time and across multiple institutional settings. In Year 1, the initiative delivers direct clinical services through home-based and hospital-integrated care. In later phases, it broadens access through mobile delivery and then increases domestic capacity through training and continuing-education functions. The benefit therefore compounds: patients receive care, communities receive access, clinical staff receive employment, and the professional field receives additional training capacity. A PERM process can test one employer's hiring needs for one position. It cannot capture the national-interest value of an expanding founder-led system that is designed to generate layered clinical, educational, and economic outcomes.

Eighth, granting the waiver would not displace any regulatory or professional safeguards. The requested waiver concerns only the immigration-law requirement of a job offer and labor certification. It does not waive state licensing requirements, healthcare regulations, scope-of-practice rules, or business-compliance obligations. Those protections remain fully in place. In other words, the United States can receive the benefit of a flexible immigration pathway for a nationally beneficial endeavor while retaining all ordinary substantive safeguards applicable to dental practice and healthcare operations. That balance strongly supports approval.

Finally, the record shows that Dr. Sousa has already done in Brazil the type of work that makes the U.S. endeavor credible. He has treated complex cases, built referral trust, led a successful specialty-oriented clinic, generated sustained revenue, supervised staff, and accumulated the financial and operational readiness necessary to begin implementation. The proposed endeavor is therefore not speculative. It is a logical extension of an already demonstrated record of clinical, entrepreneurial, and organizational success.

For all of these reasons, the third prong is fully satisfied. On balance, the United States would benefit more from waiving the job-offer and labor-certification requirements than from insisting that a founder-driven specialty-care, mobile-access, and workforce-development initiative be forced into a traditional labor-market test that does not capture the endeavor's real public value.

7. CONCLUSION

The record establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that Dr. Sousa Ribeiro Melo e Sousa qualifies for the underlying EB-2 classification as a professional holding an advanced degree and, in the alternative, presents evidence consistent with exceptional ability. It further establishes that his proposed endeavor through MBR Dentistry has substantial merit and national importance, that he is well positioned to advance that endeavor, and that, on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the job-offer and labor-certification requirements. See INA 203(b)(2)(B)(i); Matter of Dhanasar, 26 I&N Dec. 884 (AAO 2016); USCIS Policy Manual, Vol. 6, Part F, Ch. 5(D).

Dr. Sousa's petition is supported by a coherent and unusually robust record: advanced academic credentials and a favorable credential evaluation; more than seventeen years of progressive clinical and entrepreneurial experience; a successful history as founder and manager of ACR Odontologia; leadership roles within Uniodonto Uberaba; detailed independent support letters from academic, referral, and quality-assurance perspectives; evidence of patient-facing recognition and market trust; compensation and tax materials demonstrating meaningful and sustained remuneration; liquidity evidence and financial feasibility; and a phased business plan directed to underserved populations, mobile access, and workforce training. See Exhibits A, B, and C.

From all topics discussed above and the attached evidence, it is "more likely than not" that:

1. The self-petitioner, Dr. Sousa, possesses advanced qualifications and is a highly accomplished professional in dentistry. Dr. Sousa holds a degree in Dental Surgery and a specialization in Implant Dentistry, and his academic credentials have been evaluated as equivalent in the United States to a Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D.) and one year of graduate study in Implant Dentistry. In addition, he holds professional licenses, maintains respected professional memberships, and has accumulated more than seventeen years of progressive experience in implantology, oral rehabilitation, advanced surgical procedures, prosthetic restoration, and patient-centered clinical care. His record further reflects entrepreneurial leadership, strong market recognition, and sustained professional development, all of which establish his readiness to make meaningful contributions to the U.S. healthcare system.
2. The proposed endeavor has substantial merit and national importance. Dr. Sousa's initiative through MBR Dentistry addresses important gaps in access to specialized oral healthcare in the United States, particularly for older adults, homebound individuals, underserved populations, and patients who face barriers to timely treatment. Through a progressive model involving home-based and hospital-partnered care, later expansion through a mobile dental unit, and the future development of a clinical training institute, the endeavor is designed not only to provide advanced oral-health services, but also to strengthen workforce readiness and expand access to care. These efforts align with national priorities related to healthcare accessibility, preventive care, clinical innovation, and workforce development, thereby demonstrating substantial merit and national importance.
3. The self-petitioner is well-positioned to advance the endeavor. Dr. Sousa's extensive experience in implant dentistry, oral surgery, prosthetic rehabilitation, and clinical management, combined with his success as founder and manager of ACR Odontologia and his leadership roles at Uniodonto Uberaba, uniquely position him to advance the proposed venture. His record demonstrates that he has not only developed advanced technical expertise, but also successfully translated that expertise into a thriving clinical practice with strong patient satisfaction and operational credibility. His professional memberships, continuing education, public recognition, documented financial capacity, and letters of support from respected professionals further confirm that he possesses the qualifications, resources, and practical ability necessary to successfully implement and expand the proposed endeavor in the United States.
4. On balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirement of a job offer and labor certification. Requiring a labor certification for Dr. Sousa would be impractical and unnecessary given the entrepreneurial nature of his proposed endeavor and its direct alignment with pressing healthcare needs in the United States. His work does not fit neatly within the framework of a traditional employer-sponsored position, because the endeavor is structured around the launch and development of his own healthcare enterprise. Moreover, the record shows that the proposed endeavor is viable, scalable, and capable of generating concrete public-health and economic benefits, including expanded access to specialized dental services, future workforce training, and job creation. Waiving the job offer and labor certification requirements would therefore allow Dr. Sousa to promptly implement an endeavor that is positioned to produce meaningful and lasting benefits for the United States.

We hereby assert that Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa merits consideration for a national interest waiver of the job offer and labor certification requirement pursuant to Section 203(b)(2)(B) of the Act. Dr. Sousa's advanced qualifications, extensive professional accomplishments, entrepreneurial leadership, and well-documented vision for improving access to specialized oral healthcare in the United States establish him as a candidate whose work will significantly benefit the national interest. His proposed endeavor is aligned with important national priorities and promises to deliver substantial and lasting contributions to oral healthcare delivery, workforce development, and healthcare accessibility in the United States.

For these reasons, we respectfully request that USCIS approve this Form I-140 petition and grant Dr. Sousa Ribeiro Melo e Sousa a National Interest Waiver under the EB-2 classification. Should any additional information be required, our office stands ready to provide it.

Should you require any further information or documentation, please do not hesitate to contact my office. Thank you in advance for your kind assistance with this matter.

Sincerely,

There are no apparent grounds to disbelieve the authenticity and accuracy of the documentation presented on behalf of Mr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa. In addition, this evaluation is based upon standard scholarly and professional sources as referenced at the end of this document. Carnegie Evaluations LLC is not responsible for how this evaluation report will be used and is not responsible for damages resulting from such use of this report.

DISCUSSION OF MR. RIBEIRO MELO E SOUSA'S ACADEMICS

This credential evaluation is provided upon review of the degree certificates and transcripts awarded to Mr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa during the course of his academic career. An analysis of Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa's foreign educational courses for the Titulo de Cirurgiao-Dentista (translated as Degree of Dental Surgeon) from Universidade de Uberaba (translated as University of Uberaba) and Especializacao em Implantodontia (translated as Specialization in Implant Dentistry) from HD Ensinos Pos-Graduacao em Odontologia (translated as HD Ensinos Graduate Studies Center) forms the basis for the following evaluation.

Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa graduated with a Degree of Dental Surgeon from the University of Uberaba in January 2009. University of Uberaba is an accredited institution of higher education in Minas Gerais, Brazil. Admission to this program requires graduation from the US equivalent of high school and competitive entrance examinations for admission and enrollment. Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa satisfactorily completed the academic course requirements for a Degree of Dental Surgeon program. He majored in Dental Surgery and was awarded a Titulo de Cirurgiao-Dentista from the institute.

This, according to the Electronic Database for Global Education (EDGE) created by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO), is equivalent to a level of education comparable to a first professional degree in dental medicine in the United States, namely a Doctor of Medicine (D.M.D) Degree. The academic criterion maintained by the University of Uberaba is significantly similar to those parameters upheld by any other accredited colleges and universities in the United States.

The Titulo de Cirurgiao-Dentista curriculum includes advanced bachelor's-level coursework and examinations in Morphological Sciences, Health and Society, Dental Clinic, Technological Sciences, Aggression, Defense, Adaptation, and Disease, Technological Sciences, Clinical Propedutics, Paediatric Dentistry, Introduction to Clinical Practice, Internship in Integrated Dental Clinic, Dental Clinic, and other related subjects.

Thereafter, Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa graduated with a Specialization in Implant Dentistry from the HD Ensinos Graduate Studies Center in October 2011. The HD Ensinos Graduate Studies Center is an accredited institution of higher education in Uberlandia, Brazil. Admission to this program requires graduation from bachelor-level studies and competitive entrance examinations for admission and enrollment. Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa satisfactorily completed the academic course requirements for a Specialization in Implant Dentistry program. He majored in Implant Dentistry and was awarded Especializacao em Implantodontia from the institute.

This is a one-year graduate program of study that represents the attainment of a level of education comparable to up to one year of graduate study in the United States. The academic criterion maintained by the HD Ensinos Graduate Studies Center is significantly similar to those parameters upheld by any other accredited colleges and universities in the United States.

The Especializacao em Implantodontia curriculum includes advanced graduate-level coursework and examinations in Foundations of Implant Dentistry, Chemical and Medicinal Therapy, Implant Dentistry Surgical Phase, Implant Dentistry Prosthetic phase, Surgical Implant Clinic, Clinic of Implant-Supported Prosthesis, Histology, Periodontics, Occlusion, Anatomy, Pathology and Imaging, Medical Emergencies in Dentistry, Bioethics, Dental Ethics and Legislation, Scientific Research Methodology, and other related subjects.

Upon reviewing Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa's academic history, it becomes apparent that Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa has satisfied the coursework requirements, which are substantially similar and equivalent to those required for the completion of a Doctor of Dental Medicine (D.M.D) Degree program, and One year of a graduate study program at an accredited institution of higher education in the United States.

SUMMARY

Based on the academic reputations of University of Uberaba, and HD Ensinos Graduate Studies Center, the nature and duration of the academic coursework, and the grades attained in the courses, it is the judgment of Carnegie Evaluations LLC that Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa has attained the equivalent of a Doctor of Medicine (D.M.D), and One Year of Graduate Study in Implant Dentistry from an accredited institution of higher education in the United States.

Carnegie Evaluations LLC represents this evaluation report to be an accurate and correct evaluation to the best of its knowledge and belief, pursuant to the requirements of the Citizenship and Immigration Services of the United States Department of Homeland Security. Carnegie Evaluations LLC does not represent that the documentation submitted to it by anyone for evaluation meets the evidentiary standards of any state or federal agency or any court. This evaluation report, like all such reports provided by Carnegie Evaluations LLC, is advisory for the customer who requested it. The foregoing evaluation of Mr. Ribeiro Melo e Sousa has been reviewed and approved by me, Dr. Zach G. Zacharia, this day of January 20, 2026.

This letter is intended to certify that Mr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa worked in my private dental office as a paid intern from January 2007 to July 2008, and subsequently as a Dental Surgeon from that date until February 2011, on a full-time basis.

Before his graduation, he assisted with complex surgical procedures, including bone grafts, dental implants, and impacted tooth extractions. He also observed and participated in numerous cases of complex oral rehabilitation, both on implants and natural teeth.

As soon as he graduated and obtained his provisional registration number with the Dental Council, Mr. Arthur Ribeiro began his specialization course in Implant Dentistry, during which, for two years, he was away from the office from Monday to Thursday, fully dedicated to his studies. From the beginning, he was already responsible for performing minor oral surgeries, prosthetic rehabilitations, resin restorations, and prophylaxis treatments.

Throughout his internship and later as a licensed professional in my office, Mr. Arthur Ribeiro consistently demonstrated great interest and strong technical ability in performing the various procedures mentioned above. In addition, he showed exceptional skill in dealing with patients, always aiming to provide excellent service. He also assisted in the training of Dental Health Assistants, where his ability to guide and teach others was clearly evident.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at my office phone number +55 34-33123100 or on my mobile/WhatsApp +55 34-998683100 should you require any additional information regarding Mr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa's professional experience or qualifications.

A presente carta tem por finalidade certificar que o Sr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa trabalhou em meu consultório particular como estagiário remunerado nos anos de janeiro de 2007 a julho de 2008 e depois como cirurgião-dentista a partir dessa data até fevereiro de 2011 em período integral.

Antes da sua graduação ele auxiliava nas cirurgias complexas de enxerto ósseo, implante dental e exodontia de dentes inclusos. Acompanhou também diversos casos de reabilitações orais complexas, sobre implantes ou dentes.

Assim que colou grau e obteve seu número provisório de inscrição no Conselho de Odontologia, o sr. Arthur Ribeiro deu início ao seu curso de especialização em Implantodontia onde durante dois anos se ausentava do consultório de segunda a quinta-feira, se dedicando à sua formação. Desde o início já deixava sob cuidados dele pacientes para cirurgia oral menor, algumas reabilitações protéticas, restaurações em resina e profilaxias.

Tanto no período do estágio quanto depois de formado, no tempo em que atuou no meu consultório, o sr. Arthur Ribeiro demonstrava bastante interesse e capacidade técnica para executar os mais diversos procedimentos que já foram citados. Além disso demonstrava total habilidade em lidar com os pacientes, visando sempre um atendimento de excelência. Ele ajudava ainda no treinamento das Auxiliares em Saúde Bucal onde era visível sua capacidade em guiar pessoas.

This letter is intended to certify that Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa and I, Camila David, CPF 089797026-80, maintained a private dental practice from early 2011 until March 2016. We began in 2011, sharing the same treatment room, and had no staff assisting us. I had just graduated and had started my specialization in Orthodontics.

At the beginning of 2012, as our client demand increased, we hired a receptionist and also needed to open an additional treatment room. Dr. Arthur primarily attended cases involving oral surgery, dental implants, and prosthetic rehabilitation.

I remember that from the very beginning, Dr. Arthur already had a network of partner dentists who referred several patients to him, mainly for the extraction of impacted wisdom teeth. Many complex cases came in, and he was always able to treat the patients successfully. This was fundamental in quickly establishing his name as a reference in this type of procedure.

As the number of clients and financial flow grew steadily, we were advised by our accountant at that time to open a company for tax reasons and to strengthen our brand in the market. Therefore, in March 2016, we stopped operating as individual practitioners and started our activities in a much larger office under the trade name ACR Odontologia.

I am available for any clarifications. I will leave my personal number: 34-999871903. My office number is 34-998821903, and my email is camilaodontolgoia@hotmail.com, should you need to contact me.

_____ Date: November 5, 2025.

A presente carta tem por finalidade certificar que o dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa, e eu, Camila David, CPF089797026-80 mantivemos um consultório particular de Odontologia do começo de 2011 até março de 2016. Iniciamos em 2011 dividindo a mesma sala de atendimento e não tínhamos funcionária nos auxiliando. Eu havia acabado de me formar e comecei minha especialização em Ortodontia.

Já no começo de 2012 com o aumento da demanda de clientes nós contratamos uma secretária e também foi necessário abrir mais uma sala de atendimento. O dr. Arthur atendia preferencialmente casos de cirurgia oral, implantes dentais e reabilitações protéticas.

Me lembro que desde o começo o dr. Arthur já tinha uma rede de dentistas parceiros que indicavam vários pacientes para realizar principalmente cirurgia de sisos inclusos. Chegavam vários casos complexos e ele sempre conseguia atender bem os pacientes. Isso foi fundamental para que que consolidasse rapidamente seu nome como uma referência nesse tipo de procedimento.

Com a demanda de clientes crescendo a cada dia e o fluxo financeiro aumentando, fomos orientados pelo contador naquela época a abrir uma empresa por questões de impostos e para solidificar uma marca no mercado. Então em março de 2016 paramos de exercer nossas funções como pessoa física e começamos as atividades em outra sede bem maior sob o nome fantasia de ACR Odontologia.

Estou à disposição para quaisquer esclarecimentos. Vou deixar meu número pessoal: 34-999871903, o do consultório 34-998821903 e meu e-mail camilaodontolgoia@hotmail.com caso seja necessário algum contato.

1.0 Executive Summary

MBR Dentistry will be established by Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa, a highly accomplished dental surgeon specializing in implantology and advanced oral rehabilitation. With more than 17 years of clinical experience and a proven record of excellence in complex surgical and restorative dentistry, Dr. Arthur has built a strong professional reputation in Brazil through successful clinical practice, patient-centered care, and leadership within cooperative healthcare systems.

The company will be headquartered in Houston, Texas, one of the fastest-growing metropolitan regions in the U.S., facing increasing demand for accessible and specialized oral healthcare services. MBR Dentistry will initially operate through a home-based and hospital-integrated care model, providing advanced oral rehabilitation, surgical procedures, and preventive care to populations with limited access to specialized dental treatment, including elderly individuals, underserved communities, and patients with systemic or mobility limitations.

Over the first two years, the business will expand its partnerships with healthcare institutions, senior-care facilities, and community organizations across Houston. Beginning in Year 3, the company will introduce a mobile dentistry unit (RV/trailer) to deliver implantology, preventive dentistry, and surgical care directly to at-risk neighborhoods and underserved areas. By Year 5, MBR Dentistry plans to establish a clinical training and continuing education center dedicated to advanced implantology, digital dentistry, and modern surgical protocols — strengthening professional development and healthcare capacity within the region.

Dr. Arthur brings expertise as a clinic founder and administrator, having successfully managed a high-performance practice with a structured dental team, strong clinical governance, and top-rated patient satisfaction (5-star average across platforms). Additionally, his leadership experience as a Board and Administrative Council Member at Uniodonto, a cooperative health network, demonstrates strategic capabilities in ESG-focused healthcare management, organizational development, and ethical governance.

National Priorities / U.S. Public Interest

This initiative aligns with key U.S. public health priorities including improving access to oral healthcare, expanding preventive dental services, increasing integration between oral and systemic health, and supporting underserved communities. The project contributes to:

- Expanding access to specialized dental care in medically underserved areas
- Reducing long-term public healthcare costs through preventive and early-intervention models

- Supporting the aging population and individuals with systemic health conditions
- Strengthening rural and low-income access to complex dental rehabilitation
- Providing workforce development and continuing education in modern oral surgery and prosthodontics

These objectives are aligned with initiatives of:

- U.S. Department of Health & Human Services – Oral Health Strategic Framework (expanding oral-systemic health programs).[1]
- Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) (supporting underserved and aging populations).[2]
- Centers for Disease Control & Prevention (CDC) (bridging disparities in oral healthcare access).[3]
- National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research (NIDCR) (advancing oral health science and access).[4]
- Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) Special Populations initiatives.[5]

MBR Dentistry will advance these priorities by delivering high-quality surgical and rehabilitative dental care, introducing innovative mobile care models, and establishing a professional training hub to develop highly skilled dental practitioners in Texas and beyond.

1.1 Nature and Scope of the Business

MBR Dentistry will serve patients across the Greater Houston metropolitan region, with a primary focus on individuals with limited access to specialized oral healthcare, including seniors, patients with systemic conditions, and underserved communities. The company will provide advanced surgical and rehabilitative dental services, integrating implantology, digital dentistry, and preventive oral health programs to support improved health outcomes and long-term quality of life.

Limited availability of specialized dental care, rising healthcare costs, and significant disparities in oral health access create an urgent need for scalable care models in Texas. Many individuals — particularly aging adults, low-income populations, and patients with mobility or systemic health challenges — face barriers to receiving timely and comprehensive oral treatment. MBR Dentistry will address these challenges through an accessible care delivery model that expands patient reach, improves functional oral health, and reduces the burden of preventable oral conditions on healthcare systems.

The company's integrated services include:

- Advanced Oral Surgery & Implantology – Surgical procedures including complex extractions, implant placement, bone grafting, and periodontal surgery, with an emphasis on functional and esthetic outcomes. These services will leverage modern guided-surgery techniques and digital planning to enhance precision and recovery outcomes.
- Full-Mouth Oral Rehabilitation & Prosthetics – Evidence-based restorative protocols, including fixed and removable prostheses, immediate-loading implant solutions, and digital smile design. Personalized treatment plans will improve chewing function, facial structure, speech ability, and patient confidence.
- Mobile & Home-Based Dentistry – Delivery of dental services in patients' homes, long-term care facilities, and partner medical institutions, ensuring access for individuals with mobility limitations or complex medical profiles. A dedicated mobile dentistry unit (RV) will be introduced in Year 3 to expand care into underserved neighborhoods.
- Preventive & Community Health Programs – Oral health screenings, caregiver and patient education, and early-intervention initiatives to reduce disease progression and emergency-care dependence. These programs will align with community organizations and public-health stakeholders to support prevention and long-term wellness.
- Professional Training & Continuing Education – Establishment of a clinical training center by Year 5 to provide hands-on instruction in implantology, prosthodontics, digital workflows, and surgical techniques. This initiative will promote best practices, strengthen workforce capacity, and elevate care standards across the region.

MBR Dentistry will collaborate with hospitals, senior-care facilities, community clinics, research institutions, and public-health organizations to ensure its services align with state and federal oral-health expansion initiatives. The company's mission is to expand access to high-quality restorative and surgical dental care, reduce preventable health burdens, and strengthen the integration of oral-systemic health in the United States — contributing to improved population health outcomes and national healthcare priorities.

Dr. Arthur has been recognized for his professional excellence, including being invited in March 2023 for a live television interview on TV Integração, the local affiliate of Rede Globo, Brazil's largest media network, where he discussed health and oral-care topics in celebration of International Health Day.

He also holds advanced English training (CCAA, 2004) and multiple technology and administrative courses, reinforcing his capacity to operate in modern, technology-integrated clinical environments and manage healthcare and business operations effectively.

2.0 The Company

MBR Dentistry will initially focus on delivering home-based and hospital-integrated dental services across the Greater Houston metropolitan region, prioritizing patients with limited mobility, seniors, individuals with systemic health conditions, and underserved populations who face barriers to accessing specialized oral healthcare. This mobile and outreach-driven model enables the company to launch operations with lower fixed overhead while maximizing reach and impact during the early years.

As the company grows, MBR Dentistry will expand into community service initiatives and broader geographic areas. Beginning in Year 3, the organization will deploy a mobile dentistry unit (RV/trailer) equipped to perform preventive care, minor surgeries, and restorative procedures directly in underserved neighborhoods, senior-care facilities, and community health centers. This innovative approach enhances access to essential oral care while strengthening relationships with local public-health stakeholders.

By Year 5, MBR Dentistry will establish a dedicated Advanced Dental Rehabilitation and Training Institute—a facility designed to offer continuing-education courses and hands-on training in implantology, prosthetics, digital workflows, and mobile dentistry models. This institute will serve treatment needs while also contributing to talent development, training U.S.-based dental professionals and expanding access to advanced oral-rehabilitation skills across the region.

To support this mission and scale effectively, MBR Dentistry will build a multidisciplinary clinical, administrative, and outreach team with expertise across dentistry, patient care, community health, operations, and education. The personnel structure will evolve as the business expands from home-based services to mobile-unit operation and finally to institutional training and clinical activities.

By Year 5, the organizational structure is projected to include:

- 1 General Manager & Clinical Director – Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa – Provides executive leadership, oversees clinical standards, leads advanced surgical services, ensures quality control, and guides strategic growth.
- 3 General Dentists – Deliver surgical and restorative services across home-based care, mobile-unit operations, and clinical programs.
- 2 Dental Assistants – Support clinical procedures, maintain sterilization protocols, and prepare equipment for mobile and in-facility care.
- 2 Administrative Assistants – Manage scheduling, patient coordination, billing, logistics, and administrative support.
- 1 Dental Hygienist – Lead preventive care, hygiene services, and oral-health counseling programs.
- 2 Marketing & Partnerships Coordinators – Develop outreach campaigns, coordinate with hospitals, nursing facilities, and community partners, and promote the training institute.
- 1 Operations Manager – Oversees logistics, equipment, mobile-unit deployment, compliance, and service quality.
- 1 Mobile Dentistry Team Leader (Dentist) – Directs mobile-unit deployment, supervises mobile procedures, and leads outreach missions.
- 1 Community Outreach Coordinator – Establishes partnerships with community organizations, senior-living facilities, and public-health agencies.
- 1 Clinical Supervisor – Ensures clinical adherence, protocol compliance, and continuous quality improvement.
- 1 Human Resources Coordinator – Recruits and retains healthcare talent, manages credentialing, and supports staff development.

- 1 Education Program Developer – Designs clinical education programming and continuing-education curriculum.
- 2 Instructor Dentists – Provide hands-on and academic training at the Advanced Rehabilitation and Training Institute.

This scalable staffing model ensures that MBR Dentistry builds operational strength, expands patient access to specialized dental care, and establishes a sustainable training pipeline for future dental professionals.

By prioritizing quality care, accessibility, innovation, and professional development, MBR Dentistry will help meet critical oral-health needs in Texas, promote inclusive access to advanced dental services, and support U.S. priorities related to population health, aging services, and healthcare-workforce development. Through its sequential growth phases and mission-driven team structure, the company is positioned to serve as a model for modern, outreach-based oral-health delivery and education in the United States.

2.1 Company's Targets

MBR Dentistry is designed to serve individuals and communities facing significant barriers to accessing specialized oral healthcare, particularly those who require advanced surgical dentistry, rehabilitative treatments, and person-centered preventive services. Demand for these services is rising due to demographic shifts, aging populations, and disparities in dental access across Texas and the United States.

The company's target populations include:

- Seniors and Medically Vulnerable Patients: Older adults, individuals with chronic illness, and those with systemic conditions who require advanced oral care and may have limited access to traditional dental clinics.
- Patients With Mobility or Access Limitations: Individuals who face challenges traveling to dental clinics, including home-bound patients, long-term care residents, and patients recovering from surgery or illness.
- Underserved and Low-Income Communities: Populations residing in areas with limited access to implantology and rehabilitative dentistry services, including medically underserved zones and communities with documented oral-health inequities.
- Hospitals, Nursing Homes, and Care Facilities: Healthcare institutions requiring integrated dental support to reduce oral-systemic complications, improve patient outcomes, and enhance continuity of care.

- Community Health Programs and Non-Profit Organizations: Public health networks and local programs seeking to elevate oral health education and preventive care for at-risk populations.
- Dental Professionals Seeking Advanced Training: Licensed dentists and dental teams looking to gain specialized skills in implantology, digital prosthodontics, surgical dentistry, and mobile care models (Year 5 onward).

Through this targeted approach, MBR Dentistry will improve access to high-quality oral rehabilitation and surgical care, reduce preventable health complications, and support the development of a more skilled dental workforce.

2.2 Need for the Company's Services

The need for MBR Dentistry's services is driven by structural challenges in the U.S. oral-health system and evolving demographic and public-health trends. Key factors include:

- Limited Access to Specialized Dental Care: Many patients — particularly seniors, individuals with disabilities, and low-income groups — face barriers accessing advanced oral rehabilitation and surgical services.
- Growing Aging Population: Demand for prosthetic rehabilitation, implant solutions, and geriatric dentistry is accelerating due to the rapid expansion of the U.S. senior population.
- Oral-Systemic Health Connections: Research underscores the link between oral disease and systemic conditions such as heart disease, diabetes, stroke, and respiratory illness, reinforcing the need for preventive and surgical dental services.
- Hospital and Home-Care Demand: Healthcare systems increasingly require dental collaboration to prevent hospital-acquired infections and reduce emergency-room visits attributed to untreated dental conditions.
- Workforce Development Needs: There is a shortage of training pathways focused on implantology, digital dentistry, and community-based care models, creating opportunities for professional education and capacity building.
- Public-Health Priorities and Federal Initiatives: U.S. oral-health strategies (CDC, HRSA, NIDCR) emphasize expanding care access, improving health equity, and integrating oral care into medical systems — all aligned with MBR Dentistry's mission.

MBR Dentistry is uniquely positioned to meet these needs through a progressive care model that combines home-based and hospital-based treatment, mobile-unit outreach, and advanced clinical training programs.

2.3 Company's Expansion

MBR Dentistry will pursue a phased growth strategy to build clinical capacity, expand access, and establish leadership in advanced oral rehabilitation and education.

Phase 1 – Initial Operations (Year 1)

- Establish headquarters in Houston, Texas.
- Launch home-based and hospital-partnered dental services.
- Focus on implantology, oral surgery, prosthetic rehabilitation, and digital dentistry.

Phase 2 – Care Expansion & Workforce Growth (Year 2–3)

Through its phased expansion plan, MBR Dentistry will build a scalable and sustainable clinical ecosystem, expanding access to specialized oral care and contributing to the training and development of U.S. dental professionals — supporting national healthcare priorities and addressing critical gaps in oral-health delivery.

2.4 Company's Economic Benefits

MBR Dentistry is projected to generate significant economic value during its first five years by expanding access to advanced dental care, creating skilled healthcare jobs, and investing in workforce development and mobile health delivery in underserved communities. The company's model—starting with home- and hospital-based services, expanding to a mobile dental unit in Year 3, and establishing a dentistry training institute in Year 5—will stimulate local economic activity, reduce untreated dental disease burdens, and support federal oral-health and senior-care priorities.

Projected Financial Performance

4.0 Industry Analysis

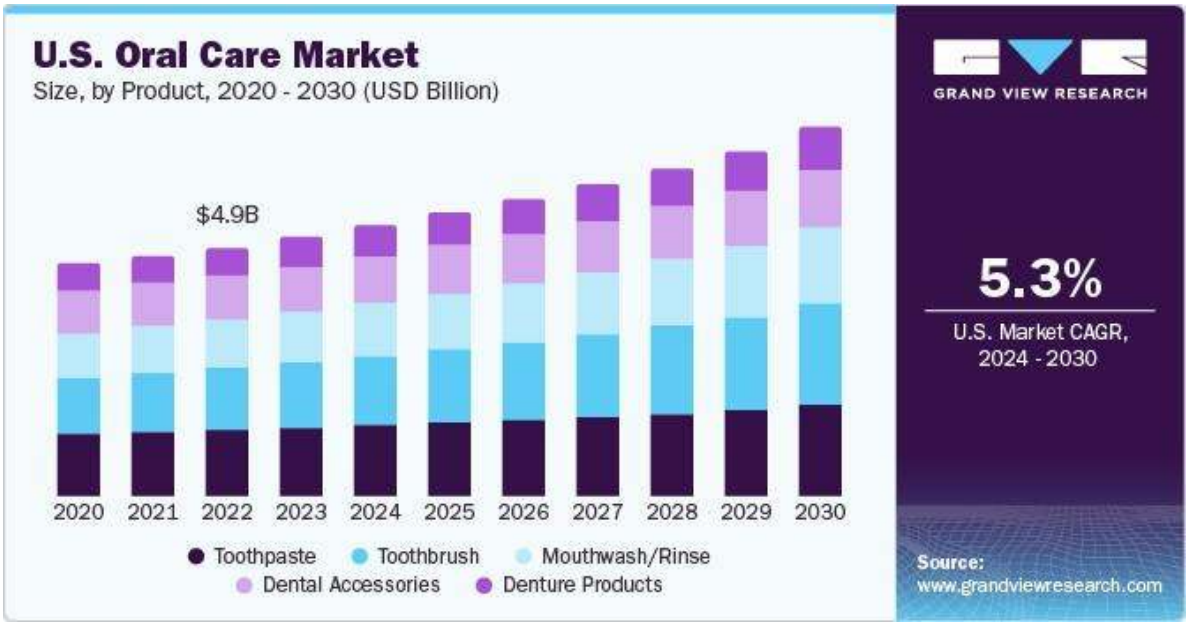

The global oral care market size, estimated at USD 37.7 billion in 2023, is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.7% from 2024 to 2030. This sector's expansion is fueled by an increasing prevalence of dental diseases, an aging population vulnerable to dental care, unhealthy dietary habits, and ongoing product innovation.[6]

Key Trends and Opportunities:

- Rising Prevalence of Dental Diseases: The growing incidence of dental care, particularly among socioeconomically disadvantaged groups, underscores a critical need for effective oral health education and preventive services. MBR Dentistry can leverage this need by focusing on community-based educational initiatives that teach oral hygiene and preventive care.
- Impact of Oral Diseases Globally: With nearly 3.5 billion people affected by oral diseases worldwide, there is a substantial opportunity for MBR Dentistry to extend their educational outreach and preventive programs globally, particularly in middle- and low-income countries where the burden is heaviest.

[6] https://www.grandviewresearch.com/industry-analysis/oral-care-market

Influence of COVID-19:

- The pandemic highlighted the importance of maintaining oral hygiene as part of overall health. During lockdowns, while some companies faced production hurdles, the demand for oral hygiene products, such as mouthwashes, increased. This shift underscores the potential for MBR Dentistry to incorporate hygiene education as a core aspect of their services, possibly introducing products that support oral health maintenance.

Innovation and Market Growth:

• Product and Research Innovation: The development of advanced oral care products, such as the Sensonic electric toothbrush by Water Pik and BURST Oral Care's Pro Sonic and Curve Sonic Toothbrushes, highlights a growing market demand for high-efficiency, technology-driven oral hygiene solutions. MBR Dentistry can leverage partnerships with key industry players, including ITI member Straumann, to access cutting-edge implant and prosthetic materials. As a trusted member of the ITI network, Straumann offers unique access to innovative products for early use and application among its affiliated members, providing a strategic advantage in delivering superior patient care.

• Research and Development Potential: With its leadership's academic background, including a Master's degree, MBR Dentistry is positioned to serve as a research and reference center for testing new techniques and materials. By collaborating with manufacturers to trial these innovations, MBR Dentistry can help shape advancements in oral health technology, becoming a hub for pioneering studies and potentially influencing broader industry practices.

4.1 Major Market Segmentation

MBR Dentistry will target multiple key market segments to maximize its clinical, social, and economic impact. The company's strategy is centered on improving access to essential oral healthcare and advanced rehabilitative dentistry, beginning with home-based and hospital-supported care and expanding into mobile units and professional training. Through this segmentation, MBR Dentistry will position itself not only as a provider of advanced oral rehabilitation, but also as a mission-driven, scalable model for addressing unmet dental needs and improving public health outcomes in the United States.

The following are the primary market segments that the company will serve:

1. Medically Complex and Homebound Adults

This core segment includes elderly individuals and adults with medical conditions that prevent travel to a dental clinic. Examples include patients with neurodegenerative diseases, mobility impairments, post-surgical recovery, cancer-related complications, and chronic illnesses such as diabetes and cardiovascular disease.

MBR Dentistry will provide preventive care, infection control, prosthetic maintenance, pain management, and digital diagnostics directly in patients' homes, reducing hospitalizations and systemic health risks.

2. Hospital and Post-Acute Care Patients

Hospitals, rehabilitation centers, oncology units, and long-term care facilities frequently require dental expertise for patients undergoing medical treatment. Oral infections and untreated dental conditions can delay surgeries and complicate chronic disease management. MBR Dentistry will collaborate with healthcare institutions to deliver pre-surgical dental clearance, oral infection management, oncology-related dental support, and on-demand treatment for medically compromised individuals.

3. Aging and Senior Populations

The United States is experiencing rapid demographic aging, with rising demand for geriatric dental care and prosthetic rehabilitation. Seniors often face mobility limitations, complex oral conditions, and difficulty accessing traditional clinics.

The company will provide minimally invasive restorative care, denture and prosthetic services, and preventive home-care protocols tailored to the needs of older adults, improving function, comfort, and quality of life.

4. Underserved and Low-Income Communities

Many low-income adults and immigrant populations lack access to consistent dental care, leading to untreated disease, tooth loss, and preventable health complications. Through affordable payment options and community partnerships, and later through its mobile RV clinic, MBR Dentistry will increase access to essential oral care and restorative services for individuals who traditionally face barriers to treatment.

5. Patients Requiring Advanced Oral Rehabilitation

This segment includes patients with significant functional and esthetic needs, including those requiring full-mouth rehabilitation, implant-supported prosthetics, and complex restorative care.

MBR Dentistry will offer digital restorative planning, implant procedures, prosthetic rehabilitation, and minimally invasive surgical approaches that restore function, esthetics, and long-term oral health.

6. Referrals from Dentists and Healthcare Professionals

General dentists, physicians, and community health practitioners often need specialized support for medically complex cases, prosthetic complications, or surgical dental needs. MBR Dentistry will serve as a trusted referral partner, offering advanced rehabilitation, mobile case support, and continuity of care in collaboration with primary dental and medical providers.

7. Dental Professionals and Care Providers (Training Market)

Beginning in later years of development, and aligned with the company's educational vision, MBR Dentistry will offer training programs in implantology, digital dentistry, geriatric care protocols, and mobile dentistry operations.

This model will attract dental professionals, hygienists, assistants, nurses, and home-care providers seeking practical, patient-centered clinical education and real-world skill development.

This structured segmentation will allow MBR Dentistry to grow its patient base, deliver significant public-health value, and transition from direct care to a hybrid clinical-education model, reinforcing its long-term sustainability and national-impact mission.

4.2 Business Locations

MBR Dentistry will be headquartered in Houston, Texas, one of the fastest-growing metropolitan areas in the United States and a major healthcare innovation hub. Houston's population exceeds 7.3 million residents, and Texas continues to experience significant demographic expansion, including rapid growth among aging adults, immigrant communities, and medically complex populations—all groups with documented barriers to dental care access.[7]

Houston offers strategic advantages that directly support MBR Dentistry's mission and growth model:

- Large underserved population: Texas has 316 Dental Care Health Professional Shortage Area (HPSA) designations, with more than 3.2 million residents living in regions with limited access to dental services.[8]
- High demand from aging residents: The senior population in Texas is projected to rise significantly over the next decade, and Houston alone has over 500,000 adults aged 60 and older, many requiring specialized dental and rehabilitative services.[9]
- Diverse and immigrant communities: Houston is one of the most culturally diverse cities in the U.S., with nearly 150 languages spoken, and historically underserved immigrant groups who suffer disproportionately from untreated oral disease.
- Strong healthcare network: As home to the Texas Medical Center, the largest medical complex in the world, Houston provides access to hospitals, training institutions, referral networks, and interdisciplinary collaboration opportunities.

These factors create an ideal environment for a mobile, medically oriented dental operation focused on access, prevention, and specialized care.

Phase-Based Operational Development

Phase 1 (Years 1–2): Home-Based & Hospital-Integrated Model

In its initial phase, MBR Dentistry will operate through:

- Portable dental care delivered directly to patient homes

- A centralized administrative and storage hub for equipment and logistics

This model allows immediate service delivery to medically fragile, disabled, and low-mobility patients, addressing a critical underserved segment.

Phase 2 (Year 3): Mobile Dental RV Unit

In Year 3, MBR Dentistry will deploy a mobile dental RV clinic to reach:

- Underserved neighborhoods
- Immigrant and low-income communities
- Senior centers and long-term care facilities

This expansion supports preventive care, restorative procedures, and digital diagnostics outside traditional clinical settings, improving health equity and reducing emergency-room burdens associated with untreated dental conditions.

Phase 3 (Year 5): Permanent Clinical & Training Center

By Year 5, MBR Dentistry will establish a fixed clinical facility and professional training institute in Houston to provide:

- Advanced implant and oral rehabilitation services
- Workforce development programs for dentists and healthcare professionals
- Training in implantology, digital dentistry, geriatric dentistry, and mobile care delivery

This represents a long-term institutional contribution to healthcare capacity building and specialized professional education.

Regional and National Impact

MBR Dentistry's presence in Houston will contribute to:

- Improved access to essential dental services for underserved populations
- Prevention of systemic complications linked to untreated dental disease
- Job creation and workforce training in the expanding healthcare economy
- Support for public-health goals in oral disease prevention and elder care
- Healthcare cost reduction, particularly for emergency-based dental and medical complications

By strategically locating in a region with substantial need and high growth, MBR Dentistry will strengthen healthcare delivery in Texas while building a scalable model that can be replicated nationally.

4.3 Barriers to Entry

MBR Dentistry will be keenly aware of the various challenges inherent in entering the oral health education and services sector. By recognizing these hurdles, the company will strategically position itself to effectively address and overcome them, thus facilitating successful market entry and growth. This proactive approach will be essential for navigating the complexities of the industry and achieving long-term success.

Regulatory Compliance: The healthcare industry, including oral health, is heavily regulated to ensure the safety and efficacy of services provided. New entrants will need to comply with numerous local, state, and federal regulations, which can include licensing requirements, adherence to treatment guidelines, and privacy laws such as HIPAA (Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act). Navigating these legal requirements will demand time, expertise, and financial resources.

Capital Requirements: Starting a dental health business will often require a substantial initial investment. Costs will include hiring qualified professionals, technology investments for diagnostics and record-keeping, and marketing expenses to establish a presence in the market. These financial barriers can be daunting without sufficient initial capital or access to funding.

Market Competition: The oral health market is competitive, featuring well-established players with strong brand recognition and customer loyalty. New entrants will need to find ways to differentiate themselves, whether through unique service offerings, superior quality, or innovative delivery methods, to carve out a market share.

Building Trust and Credibility: In healthcare, trust and credibility are paramount. New businesses will need to work to build a reputation and reliability to attract and retain clients. This often means proving the efficacy and value of their services through successful case studies, endorsements from respected community members or professionals, and consistent positive outcomes.

Access to Distribution Channels: Effective distribution will be key to reaching target markets, especially in diverse regions like those targeted by MBR Dentistry. New entrants will need to establish relationships with healthcare providers, institutions, and community organizations to facilitate the delivery of their educational programs and services.

Technological Integration: Staying abreast of technology and integrating it effectively into service offerings will be another barrier. This includes the use of electronic health records, telehealth services, and diagnostic tools. Implementing such technologies will require upfront costs and ongoing maintenance, alongside training for staff and clients.

MBR Dentistry is well-equipped to enter and thrive in the competitive oral health education and services sector. Under the seasoned leadership of Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa, who brings extensive experience of dentistry and successful clinic management, the company is already well positioned to navigate the complexities of the industry. His background ensures that the company is aware of and prepared for challenges such as regulatory compliance, capital requirements, market competition, and the need for technological integration. Dr. Sousa's proven track record in building trust and credibility in healthcare, coupled with his strategic foresight in establishing vital partnerships and integrating cutting-edge technology, gives MBR Dentistry a strong foundation to successfully launch and expand. Thus, the company is not only entering the market but is poised to make a significant impact on improving oral health standards and accessibility.

5.0 Strategy and Implementation

The company will begin by serving medically complex, elderly, and underserved patients through home- and hospital-based care, then scale into mobile clinical operations and a permanent care and training center. This phased approach enables MBR Dentistry to address immediate public-health needs in Texas while establishing a long-term platform for clinical excellence and professional education.

- Phase 3 (Year 5+): Permanent Clinic & Training Institute: Establish a fixed clinical facility providing advanced implantology, digital dentistry, prosthetic rehabilitation, and hands-on training programs for dental professionals.

Each stage will include strategic hiring, technology investment, quality-control systems, and data-driven management practices to ensure operational excellence and patient satisfaction.

2. Restoring Dignity and Quality of Life

The practice's advanced implant dentistry and minimally invasive rehabilitation treatments will help patients regain function, confidence, and dignity.

These services are especially impactful for individuals with severe oral disease, veterans experiencing dental-care gaps, aging populations with chronic conditions, and patients suffering from trauma or tooth loss. Beyond aesthetics, MBR Dentistry improves social interaction, nutrition, self-esteem, and mental well-being—fundamentally enhancing quality of life.

3. Creating Employment and Skill-Development Opportunities

MBR Dentistry will support the Texas healthcare workforce by creating skilled jobs and establishing educational and clinical-training pathways.

The company will hire dentists, hygienists, assistants, administrative staff, and outreach professionals, offering competitive career opportunities in a rapidly growing sector. Over time, the practice intends to develop training programs for dental professionals, expanding Texas's oral-health workforce and supporting upward socioeconomic mobility in under-resourced communities.

4. Health Education and Community Outreach

In addition to direct care, MBR Dentistry will implement targeted outreach and education initiatives across Greater Houston and surrounding counties.

Programs will focus on preventive oral health, hygiene, early-intervention practices, and the connection between dental and systemic health. These efforts will partner with schools, senior centers, faith-based groups, community health events, and local nonprofits, promoting long-term wellness and reducing avoidable hospital and emergency-room dental visits.

5. Supporting Underserved and At-Risk Populations

The clinic will make care accessible for individuals who traditionally face barriers within the U.S. dental system, including immigrants, uninsured residents, low-income families, seniors, and rural Texans.

Through flexible pricing models, community partnerships, and potential collaborations with nonprofit and government agencies, MBR Dentistry will reduce oral-health inequities and bring care to individuals often overlooked in traditional systems.

6. Promoting Health Equity Through Innovation

MBR Dentistry integrates state-of-the-art technologies—such as digital dentistry, 3D imaging, guided implant surgery, and mobile-care logistics—to expand access to world-class care. 8.5 Economic Ripple Effect and Community Revitalization

The expansion of MBR Dentistry, led by Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa, will generate a notable economic ripple effect across the Greater Houston region and surrounding underserved communities in Texas. By establishing a high-quality implant-focused dental care operation and expanding into mobile and training-center services, the company will stimulate local economic activity, create career pathways in healthcare, and support sustainable community development.

As MBR Dentistry scales its advanced implantology services, preventive care programs, and community-based dentistry initiatives, it is projected to employ 19 full-time professionals by Year 5. These high-skill, well-compensated roles increase local household income, strengthen consumer spending power, and support economic mobility for families across the region—particularly in medically underserved and low-income ZIP codes.

Increased income and job stability for clinical and administrative staff will also generate indirect economic activity across Houston, benefiting retail businesses, service providers, real estate, and education services. Further, as the company introduces mobile dentistry programs and builds toward a regional training and education hub, the impact will extend beyond core dental operations to include transportation services, outreach partners, and training vendors.

8.6 Long-Term Community Impact

Beyond immediate job creation and service expansion, MBR Dentistry will contribute long-term community value through workforce development, healthcare access expansion, and long-term economic participation.

- Health education initiatives promoting preventive care, early diagnosis, and oral-systemic health education
- Support for uninsured and underinsured populations, including mobile-care deployment and flexible treatment programs

These efforts align with national workforce and health-equity objectives supported by programs such as the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), HRSA health-workforce development initiatives, and Texas state workforce and public-health programs aimed at building clinical capacity in underserved areas.

By expanding access to specialized oral care, increasing high-quality employment opportunities, and strengthening healthcare infrastructure, MBR Dentistry will serve as a catalyst for economic mobility, health equity, and long-term community revitalization in Houston and beyond. Over time, this model can be replicated across Texas and neighboring states, amplifying the clinic's social, economic, and public-health impact on a regional and national scale.

Matter of DHANASAR, Petitioner

Decided December 27, 2016

U.S. Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
Administrative Appeals Office

USCIS may grant a national interest waiver if the petitioner demonstrates: (1) that the foreign national's proposed endeavor has both substantial merit and national importance; (2) that he or she is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor; and (3) that, on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the job offer and labor certification requirements. Matter of New York State Dep't of Transp., 22 I&N Dec. 215 (Acting Assoc. Comm'r 1998), vacated.

ON BEHALF OF PETITIONER: Gerard M. Chapman, Esquire, Greensboro, North Carolina

In this decision, we have occasion to revisit the analytical framework for assessing eligibility for "national interest waivers" under section 203(b)(2)(B)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1153(b)(2)(B)(i) (2012). The self-petitioner, a researcher and educator in the field of aerospace engineering, filed an immigrant visa petition seeking classification under section 203(b)(2) of the Act as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree. The petitioner also sought a "national interest waiver" of the job offer otherwise required by section 203(b)(2)(A).

The Director of the Texas Service Center denied the petition under the existing analytical framework, concluding that the petitioner qualifies for classification as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree but that a waiver of the job offer requirement would not be in the national interest of the United States. Upon de novo review, and based on the revised national interest standard adopted herein, we will sustain the appeal and approve the petition.

I. LEGAL BACKGROUND

Subparagraph (A) of section 203(b)(2) of the Act makes immigrant visas available to "qualified immigrants who are members of the professions holding advanced degrees or their equivalent or who because of their exceptional ability in the sciences, arts, or business, will substantially benefit prospectively the national economy, cultural or educational interests, or welfare of the United States." Under subparagraph (A), immigrant visas are available to such individuals only if their "services in the sciences, arts, professions, or business are sought by an employer in the United States."

Before hiring a foreign national under this immigrant classification, an employer must first obtain a permanent labor certification from the United States Department of Labor ("DOL") under section 212(a)(5)(A)(i) of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1182(a)(5)(A)(i) (2012). See also 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(4)(i) (2016). A labor certification demonstrates that DOL has determined that there are not sufficient workers who are able, willing, qualified, and available at the place where the alien is to perform such skilled or unskilled labor, and the employment of such alien will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of workers in the United States similarly employed. In its labor certification application, the employer must list the position's job requirements consistent with what is normally required for the occupation. See 20 C.F.R. § 656.17(h)(1) (2016). Moreover, the job requirements described on the labor certification application must represent the actual minimum requirements for the job opportunity. See 20 C.F.R. § 656.17(i)(1). That is, the employer may not tailor the position requirements to the foreign worker's qualifications; it may only list the position's minimum requirements, regardless of the foreign worker's additional skills that go beyond what is normally required for the occupation. The employer must then test the labor market to determine if able, willing, or qualified U.S. workers are available with the advertised minimum qualifications. If such U.S. workers are found, the employer may not hire the foreign worker for the position, even if the foreign worker clearly has more skills (beyond the advertised qualifications). If the employer does not identify such U.S. workers and DOL determines that those workers are indeed unavailable, DOL will certify the labor certification. After securing the DOL-approved labor certification, the employer may then file a petition with DHS requesting the immigrant classification.

Under subparagraph (B) of section 203(b)(2), however, the Secretary of Homeland Security may waive the requirement of a "job offer" (namely, that the beneficiary's services are sought by a U.S. employer) and, under the applicable regulations, of "a labor certification." 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(4)(ii).[1] That subparagraph states, in pertinent part, that the

[1] While appearing to limit national interest waivers to only aliens possessing exceptional ability in the sciences, arts, or business, 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(4)(ii) was superseded in part by section 302(b)(2) of the Miscellaneous and Technical Immigration and Naturalization Amendments of 1991, Pub. L. No. 102-232, 105 Stat. 1733, 1743 (continued . . .)

Secretary "may, when the [Secretary] deems it to be in the national interest, waive the requirements of subparagraph (A) that an alien's services in the sciences, arts, professions, or business be sought by an employer in the United States."[2] Section 203(b)(2)(i) of the Act.

USCIS may grant a national interest waiver as a matter of discretion if the petitioner satisfies both subparagraphs (A) and (B). Thus, a petitioner who seeks a "national interest waiver" must first satisfy subparagraph (A) by demonstrating that the beneficiary qualifies as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree or as an individual of exceptional ability. See 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(1)–(3) (providing definitions and considerations for making such determinations); see also section 203(b)(2)(C) of the Act (providing that possession of requisite academic degree or professional license "shall not by itself be considered sufficient evidence of exceptional ability"). The petitioner must then satisfy subparagraph (B) by establishing that it would be in the national interest to waive the "job offer" requirement under subparagraph (A).[3] See 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(4)(ii). This two-part statutory scheme is relatively straightforward, but the term "national interest" is ambiguous. Undefined by statute and regulation, "national interest" is a broad concept subject to various interpretations.

In 1998, under the legacy Immigration and Naturalization Service, we issued a precedent decision establishing a framework for evaluating national interest waiver petitions. Matter of New York State Dep't of Transp. ("NYSDOT"), 22 I&N Dec. 215 (Acting Assoc. Comm'r 1998).

("MTINA"). Section 302(b)(2) of MTINA amended section 203(b)(2)(B)(i) of the Act by inserting the word "professions" after the word "arts," and thereby made the national interest waiver available to members of the professions holding advanced degrees in addition to individuals of exceptional ability.

[2] Pursuant to section 1517 of the Homeland Security Act ("HSA") of 2002, Pub. L. No. 107-296, 116 Stat. 2135, 2311 (codified at 6 U.S.C. § 557 (2012)), any reference to the Attorney General in a provision of the Act describing functions that were transferred from the Attorney General or other Department of Justice official to the Department of Homeland Security by the HSA "shall be deemed to refer to the Secretary" of Homeland Security. See also 6 U.S.C. § 542 note (2012); 8 U.S.C. § 1551 note (2012).

[3] To do so, a petitioner must go beyond showing the individual's expertise in a particular field. The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 204.5(k)(2) defines "exceptional ability" as "a degree of expertise significantly above that ordinarily encountered" in a given area of endeavor. By statute, individuals of exceptional ability are generally subject to the job offer/labor certification requirement; they are not exempt by virtue of their exceptional ability. Therefore, whether a given petitioner seeks classification as an individual of exceptional ability, or as a member of the professions holding an advanced degree, that individual cannot qualify for a waiver just by demonstrating a degree of expertise significantly above that ordinarily encountered in his field of expertise.

The NYSDOT framework looks first to see if a petitioner has shown that the area of employment is of "substantial intrinsic merit." Id. at 217. Next, a petitioner must establish that any proposed benefit from the individual's endeavors will be "national in scope." Id. Finally, the petitioner must demonstrate that the national interest would be adversely affected if a labor certification were required for the foreign national. Id.

Based on our experience with that decision in the intervening period, we believe it is now time for a reassessment. While the first prong has held up under adjudicative experience, the term "intrinsic" adds little to the analysis yet is susceptible to unnecessary subjective evaluation.[4] Similarly, the second prong has caused relatively few problems in adjudications, but occasionally the term "national in scope" is construed too narrowly by focusing primarily on the geographic impact of the benefit. While NYSDOT found a civil engineer's employment to be national in scope even though it was limited to a particular region, that finding hinged on the geographic connections between New York's bridges and roads and the national transportation system. Certain locally or regionally focused endeavors, however, may be of national importance despite being difficult to quantify with respect to geographic scope.

What has generated the greatest confusion for petitioners and adjudicators, however, is NYSDOT's third prong. First, this prong is explained in several different ways within NYSDOT itself, leaving the reader uncertain what ultimately is the relevant inquiry. We initially state the third prong as requiring a petitioner to "demonstrate that the national interest would be adversely affected if a labor certification were required." NYSDOT, 22 I&N Dec. at 217. We then alternatively describe the third prong as requiring the petitioner to demonstrate that the individual "present[s] a national benefit so great as to outweigh the national interest inherent in the labor certification process." Id. at 218. Immediately thereafter, we restate the third prong yet again: the petitioner must establish that the individual will "serve the national interest to a substantially greater degree than would an available U.S. worker having the same minimum qualifications."[5] Id. Finally, in what may be construed as either a fourth restatement of prong three or as an explanation of how to satisfy it, we state that "it clearly must be established that the alien's past record justifies projections of future benefit to the national interest." Id. at 219. A footnote to this statement clarifies that USCIS seeks "a past history of demonstrable achievement with some degree of influence on the field as a whole." Id. at 219 n.6. Although residing in footnote 6, this "influence" standard has in practice become the primary yardstick against which petitions are measured.[6]

[4] Cf., e.g., 24/7 Records, Inc. v. Sony Music Entm't, Inc., 514 F. Supp. 2d 571, 575 (S.D.N.Y. 2007) ("'Intrinsic value' is an inherently subjective and speculative concept.").

[5] Other, slight variations of the third prong emerge later in the decision. See NYSDOT, 22 I&N at 220 ("to a greater extent than U.S. workers"); see also id. at 221 ("considerably outweigh").

Second, and a more fundamental challenge than parsing its several restatements, NYSDOT's third prong can be misinterpreted to require the petitioner to submit, and the adjudicator to evaluate, evidence relevant to the very labor market test that the waiver is intended to forego. The first iteration of prong three, that the national interest would be adversely affected if a labor certification were required, implies that petitioners should submit evidence of harm to the national interest. The third iteration, that the individual will serve the national interest to a substantially greater degree than would an available U.S. worker having the same minimum qualifications, suggests that petitioners should submit evidence comparing foreign nationals to unidentified U.S. workers. These concepts have proven to be difficult for many qualified individuals to establish or analyze in the abstract. It has proven particularly ill-suited for USCIS to evaluate petitions from self-employed individuals, such as entrepreneurs. In NYSDOT, we even "acknowledge[d] that there are certain occupations wherein individuals are essentially self-employed, and thus would have no U.S. employer to apply for a labor certification." Id. at 218 n.5. Nonetheless, we did not modify the test to resolve this scenario, which continues to challenge petitioners and USCIS adjudicators. Lastly, this concept of harm-to-national-interest is not required by, and unnecessarily narrows, the Secretary's broad discretionary authority to grant a waiver when he "deems it to be in the national interest."

II. NEW ANALYTICAL FRAMEWORK

Accordingly, our decision in NYSDOT is ripe for revision. Today, we vacate NYSDOT and adopt a new framework for adjudicating national interest waiver petitions, one that will provide greater clarity, apply more flexibly to circumstances of both petitioning employers and self-petitioning

[6] While this "influence" standard rests upon the reasonable notion that past success will often predict future benefit, our adjudication experience in the years since NYSDOT has revealed that there are some talented individuals for whom past achievements are not necessarily the best or only predictor of future success.

individuals, and better advance the purpose of the broad discretionary waiver provision to benefit the United States.[7]

Under the new framework, and after eligibility for EB-2 classification has been established, USCIS may grant a national interest waiver if the petitioner demonstrates by a preponderance of the evidence:[8] (1) that the foreign national's proposed endeavor has both substantial merit and national importance; (2) that the foreign national is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor; and (3) that, on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and thus of a labor certification. If these three elements are satisfied, USCIS may approve the national interest waiver as a matter of discretion.[9]

The first prong, substantial merit and national importance, focuses on the specific endeavor that the foreign national proposes to undertake. The endeavor's merit may be demonstrated in a range of areas such as business, entrepreneurialism, science, technology, culture, health, or education. Evidence that the endeavor has the potential to create a significant economic impact may be favorable but is not required, as an endeavor's merit may be established without immediate or quantifiable economic impact. For example, endeavors related to research, pure science, and the furtherance of human knowledge may qualify, whether or not the potential accomplishments in those fields are likely to translate into economic benefits for the United States.

In determining whether the proposed endeavor has national importance, we consider its potential prospective impact. An undertaking may have national importance for example, because it has national or even global implications within a particular field, such as those resulting from certain improved manufacturing processes or medical advances. But we do not evaluate prospective impact solely in geographic terms. Instead, we look for broader implications. Even ventures and undertakings that have as their focus one geographic area of the United States may properly be considered to have national importance. In modifying this prong to assess "national importance" rather than "national in scope," as used in NYSDOT, we seek to avoid overemphasis on the geographic breadth of the endeavor. An endeavor that has significant potential to employ U.S. workers or has other substantial positive economic effects, particularly in an economically depressed area, for instance, may well be understood to have national importance.

[7] Going forward, we will use "petitioners" to include both employers who have filed petitions on behalf of employees and individuals who have filed petitions on their own behalf (namely, self-petitioners).

[8] Under the "preponderance of the evidence" standard, a petitioner must establish that he or she more likely than not satisfies the qualifying elements. Matter of Chawathe, 25 I&N Dec. 369, 376 (AAO 2010). We will consider not only the quantity, but also the quality (including relevance, probative value, and credibility) of the evidence. Id.

[9] Because the national interest waiver is "purely discretionary," Schneider v. Chertoff, 450 F.3d 944, 948 (9th Cir. 2006), the petitioner also must show that the foreign national otherwise merits a favorable exercise of discretion. See Zhu v. Gonzales, 411 F.3d 292, 295 (D.C. Cir. 2005); cf. Matter of Jean, 23 I&N Dec. 373, 383 (A.G. 2002).

The second prong shifts the focus from the proposed endeavor to the foreign national. To determine whether he or she is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor, we consider factors including, but not limited to: the individual's education, skills, knowledge and record of success in related or similar efforts; a model or plan for future activities; any progress towards achieving the proposed endeavor; and the interest of potential customers, users, investors, or other relevant entities or individuals.

We recognize that forecasting feasibility or future success may present challenges to petitioners and USCIS officers, and that many innovations and entrepreneurial endeavors may ultimately fail, in whole or in part, despite an intelligent plan and competent execution. We do not, therefore, require petitioners to demonstrate that their endeavors are more likely than not to ultimately succeed. But notwithstanding this inherent uncertainty, in order to merit a national interest waiver, petitioners must establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that they are well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor.

The third prong requires the petitioner to demonstrate that, on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and thus of a labor certification. On the one hand, Congress clearly sought to further the national interest by requiring job offers and labor certifications to protect the domestic labor supply. On the other hand, by creating the national interest waiver, Congress recognized that in certain cases the benefits inherent in the labor certification process can be outweighed by other factors that are also deemed to be in the national interest. Congress entrusted the Secretary to balance these interests within the context of individual national interest waiver adjudications.

In performing this analysis, USCIS may evaluate factors such as: whether, in light of the nature of the foreign national's qualifications or proposed endeavor, it would be impractical either for the foreign national to secure a job offer or for the petitioner to obtain a labor certification;[10]

[10] For example, the labor certification process may prevent a petitioning employer from hiring a foreign national with unique knowledge or skills that are not easily articulated in a labor certification. See generally 20 C.F.R. § 656.17(i). Likewise, because of the nature of the proposed endeavor, it may be impractical for an entrepreneur or (continued . . .)

whether, even assuming that other qualified U.S. workers are available, the United States would still benefit from the foreign national's contributions; and whether the national interest in the foreign national's contributions is sufficiently urgent to warrant forgoing the labor certification process. We emphasize that, in each case, the factor(s) considered must, taken together, indicate that on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and thus of a labor certification.

We note that this new prong, unlike the third prong of NYSDOT, does not require a showing of harm to the national interest or a comparison against U.S. workers in the petitioner's field. As stated previously, NYSDOT's third prong was especially problematic for certain petitioners, such as entrepreneurs and self-employed individuals. This more flexible test, which can be met in a range of ways as described above, is meant to apply to a greater variety of individuals.

III. ANALYSIS

The director found the petitioner to be qualified for the classification sought by virtue of his advanced degrees. We agree that he holds advanced degrees and therefore qualifies under section 203(b)(2)(A). The remaining issue before us is whether the petitioner has established, by a preponderance of the evidence, that he is eligible for and merits a national interest waiver.

The petitioner proposes to engage in research and development relating to air and space propulsion systems, as well as to teach aerospace engineering, at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University ("North Carolina A&T"). The petitioner holds two master of science degrees, in mechanical engineering and in applied physics, as well as a Ph.D. in engineering, from North Carolina A&T. At the time of filing the instant petition, he also worked as a postdoctoral research associate at the university. The record reflects that the petitioner's graduate and postgraduate research has focused on hypersonic propulsion systems (systems involving propulsion at speeds of Mach 5 and above) and on computational fluid dynamics. He has developed a validated computational model of a high-speed air-breathing propulsion engine, as well as a novel numerical method for accurately calculating hypersonic air flow. The petitioner intends to continue his research at the university.

The extensive record includes: reliable evidence of the petitioner's credentials; copies of his publications and other published materials that cite his work; evidence of his membership in professional associations; and documentation regarding his research and teaching activities. The petitioner also submitted several letters from individuals who establish their own expertise in aerospace, describe the petitioner's research in detail and attest to his expertise in the field of hypersonic propulsion systems.

We determine that the petitioner is eligible for a national interest waiver under the new framework. First, we conclude that the petitioner has established both the substantial merit and national importance of his proposed endeavor. The petitioner demonstrated that he intends to continue research into the design and development of propulsion systems for potential use in military and civilian technologies such as nano-satellites, rocket-propelled ballistic missiles, and single-stage-to-orbit vehicles. In letters supporting the petition, he describes how research in this area enhances our national security and defense by allowing the United States to maintain its advantage over other nations in the field of hypersonic flight. We find that this proposed research has substantial merit because it aims to advance scientific knowledge and further national security interests and U.S. competitiveness in the civil space sector.

The record further demonstrates that the petitioner's proposed endeavor is of national importance. The petitioner submitted probative expert letters from individuals holding senior positions in academia, government, and industry that describe the importance of hypersonic propulsion research as it relates to U.S. strategic interests. He also provided media articles and other evidence documenting the interest of the House Committee on Armed Services in the development of hypersonic technologies and discussing the potential significance of U.S. advances in this area of research and development. The letters and the media articles discuss efforts and advances that other countries are currently making in the area of hypersonic propulsion systems and the strategic importance of U.S. advancement in researching and developing these technologies for use in missiles, satellites, and aircraft.

Second, we find that the record establishes that the petitioner is well positioned to advance the proposed endeavor. Beyond his multiple graduate degrees in relevant fields, the petitioner has experience conducting research and developing computational models that support the mission of the United States Department of Defense ("DOD") to develop air superiority and protection capabilities of U.S. military forces, and that assist in the development of platforms for Earth observation and interplanetary exploration. The petitioner submitted detailed expert letters describing U.S. Government interest and investment in his research, and the record includes documentation that the petitioner played a significant role in projects funded by grants from the National Aeronautics and Space

Administration ("NASA") and the Air Force Research Laboratories ("AFRL") within DOD.[11] Thus, the significance of the petitioner's research in his field is corroborated by evidence of peer and government interest in his research, as well as by consistent government funding of the petitioner's research projects. The petitioner's education, experience, and expertise in his field, the significance of his role in research projects, as well as the sustained interest of and funding from government entities such as NASA and AFRL, position him well to continue to advance his proposed endeavor of hypersonic technology research.

Third and finally, we conclude that, on balance, it would be beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and thus of a labor certification. As noted above, the petitioner holds three graduate degrees in fields tied to the proposed endeavor, and the record demonstrates that he possesses considerable experience and expertise in a highly specialized field. The evidence also shows that research on hypersonic propulsion holds significant implications for U.S. national security and competitiveness. In addition, the repeated funding of research in which the petitioner played a key role indicates that government agencies, including NASA and the DOD, have found his work on this topic to be promising and useful. Because of his record of successful research in an area that furthers U.S. interests, we find that this petitioner offers contributions of such value that, on balance, they would benefit the United States even assuming that other qualified U.S. workers are available.

In addition to conducting research, the petitioner proposes to support teaching activities in science, technology, engineering, and math ("STEM") disciplines. He submits letters favorably attesting to his teaching abilities at the university level and evidence of his participation in mentorship programs for middle school students. While STEM teaching has substantial merit in relation to U.S. educational interests, the record does not indicate by a preponderance of the evidence that the petitioner would be engaged in activities that would impact the field of STEM education more broadly. Accordingly, as the petitioner has not established by a preponderance of the evidence that his proposed teaching activities meet the "national importance" element of the first prong of the new framework, we do not address the remaining prongs in relation to the petitioner's teaching activities.

[11] Although the director of North Carolina A&T's Center for Aerospace Research ("CAR") is listed as the lead principal investigator on all grants for CAR research, the record establishes that the petitioner initiated or is the primary award contact on several funded grant proposals and that he is the only listed researcher on many of the grants.

IV. CONCLUSION

The record demonstrates by a preponderance of the evidence that: (1) the petitioner's research in aerospace engineering has both substantial merit and national importance; (2) the petitioner is well positioned to advance his research; and (3) on balance, it is beneficial to the United States to waive the requirements of a job offer and thus of a labor certification. We find that the petitioner has established eligibility for and otherwise merits a national interest waiver as a matter of discretion.

In visa petition proceedings, it is the petitioner's burden to establish eligibility for the immigration benefit sought. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361 (2012). The petitioner has met that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained and the petition is approved.

Oral Conditions

Goal: Improve oral health by increasing access to oral health care, including preventive services.

Tooth decay is the most common chronic disease in children and adults in the United States.[1,2] Healthy People 2030 focuses on reducing tooth decay and other oral health conditions and helping people get oral health care services.[3]

Regular preventive dental care can catch problems early, when they're usually easier to treat.[4] But many people don't get the care they need, often because they can't afford it. Untreated oral health problems can cause pain and disability and are linked to other diseases.

Strategies to help people access dental services can help prevent problems like tooth decay, gum disease, and tooth loss. Individual-level interventions like topical fluorides and community-level interventions like community water fluoridation can also help improve oral health. In addition, teaching people how to take care of their teeth and gums can help prevent oral health problems.

About Oral Health

MAY 15, 2024

For Everyone

KEY POINTS

- Oral health allows us to eat, speak, smile, and show emotions.
- Poor oral health can lead to pain, poor school performance, productivity losses, and lowered quality of life.
- Oral diseases — which range from cavities and gum disease to oral cancer — are largely preventable with a combination of professional and self-care.

MORE INFORMATION

Overview

Oral health refers to health of the teeth, gums, and entire oral-facial system.

Many children and adults experience poor oral health due to common oral diseases such as cavities (tooth decay) and periodontal (gum) disease —both of which are the leading causes of tooth loss.[1]

In the United States, more than half of children and adolescents aged 12–19 (57%) and almost all adults 20 or older (90% or more as age increases) have had cavities in their permanent teeth. Although dental sealants can be used to prevent cavities, less than half of U.S. children aged 6–11 (42%) have dental sealants on any of their permanent teeth.[2]

About 34 million school hours and 92 million work hours are lost yearly due to unplanned and emergency dental care services.[3] [4] Roughly $46 billion dollars of U.S. productivity (2015 U.S. dollars) is lost yearly due to untreated oral diseases.[5]

While oral health affects our ability to do things like eat, speak, and smile, oral health is also connected to our overall health. For example, poor periodontal (gum) health can worsen glycemic control (blood sugar level) in people living with diabetes.[6] A growing number of studies show that people living with certain chronic conditions more often have untreated oral diseases or conditions.[7] [8] [9]

Types

Some of the most common diseases and conditions that impact our oral health include:

- Cavities (tooth decay)
- Periodontal (gum) diseases
- Oral cancers
- Tooth loss

Prevention

Things you can do to support your oral health include:[10]

- Brushing twice daily.

- Flossing daily.
- Limiting foods and beverages that are high in added sugar.
- Having at least a yearly dental check-up and professional cleanings.
- Having additional dental visits if recommended by your health care provider.

Sometimes an oral disease may not cause any pain or signs that you can easily see until the disease has reached a more serious stage. Having a professional evaluation is part of why routine dental check-ups are so important.

Dental check-ups can also be a time when you and your provider discuss your unique risks for developing oral diseases, and how to help protect your oral health.

For more information about preventing oral disease across the lifespan, see CDC's Preventing Oral Diseases.

What CDC is doing

CDC's Division of Oral Health (DOH) provides leadership to improve the nation's oral health. We promote proven interventions, such as community water fluoridation and dental sealants, to reduce the rate of cavities, especially for people at highest risk. We also support data collection efforts to help monitor progress towards improving the nation's oral health.

Community Water Fluoridation

Community water fluoridation provides a safe, cost-effective, and widely accessible way to help prevent cavities.[11] [12] [13] Drinking fluoridated water has been shown to reduce cavities by about 25% in children and adults.[11] [14] [15] [16] Fluoride helps prevent cavities by rebuilding, strengthening, and protecting a tooth's surface.[17]

Almost all water contains some naturally occurring level of fluoride. Community water fluoridation is the process of adjusting that amount of fluoride in our drinking water to a level recommended for preventing cavities.[11] [12]

For more information, see CDC's Community Water Fluoridation.

For information about your local water system's fluoridation status, see CDC's My Water's Fluoride.

School Sealant Programs

Dental sealants can prevent cavities for many years.[18] School sealant programs are an effective way to help prevent cavities among children across the nation, especially those who may not otherwise have access to dental care.[19]

For more information about sealants and their benefits, see CDC's About Dental Sealants.

Oral Health Surveillance

DOH supports data collection efforts to monitor trends in the presence of oral diseases, to gain information about access to dental care, and to better understand how oral health impacts quality of life among people across the nation.

DOH's support of oral health-related data collection through the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey helps monitor progress towards several Healthy People 2030 objectives.

More Ways CDC Improves Oral Health

DOH efforts to improve oral health include:

- Developing and promoting infection prevention and control guidelines for dental settings.
- Working to integrate medical and dental care.
- Funding state, territorial, and tribal oral health programs.
- Hosting the CDC Dental Public Health Residency Program.
- Conducting oral health-related research.
- Partnering with organizations that support the DOH mission.

About Cavities (Tooth Decay)

MAY 15, 2024

For Everyone

KEY POINTS

- Most, but not all, people get cavities sometime during their life.
- Some habits can protect you from getting cavities and having pain.
- Keep your teeth for as long as possible by stopping cavities from getting bigger.

Overview

Cavities (also called tooth decay or dental caries) are one of the most common diseases people get and live with during their lifetime.[1] Cavities are caused by the bacteria in your mouth that stick to your teeth. You feed the bacteria every time you eat or drink.

The bacteria produce acid which starts to dissolve the outer enamel layer of your teeth. Your saliva clears away the acid and helps to repair the enamel. If the repair isn't fast enough, bacteria get inside your tooth and make cavities. Cavities will get bigger unless the bacteria are stopped or removed.

Symptoms

Cavities cause pain and sensitivity as they get bigger, especially when close to the nerve in the middle of your tooth. If the cavity reaches your nerve it may cause an infection (abscess) that can spread in your body. It is rare, but this can cause death.

You should not experience pain in your mouth or teeth. In children, cavities may lead to problems with eating, speaking, playing, and learning. For people of all ages, cavities that are not stopped lead to tooth loss.

Risk factors

Chances of getting cavities are higher if you:

- Drink or eat things with acid or sugar, especially between meals.
- Take medicine or have problems that lessen how well your saliva protects your teeth.
- Wear braces or other oral appliances.
- Can see your tooth roots.
- Struggle to brush because of vision, cognitive, or physical problems.

Who is at risk

Children

- Half of children (50%) aged 6 to 9 years have had at least one cavity in their primary (baby) or permanent teeth.[2]

- 1 in 10 adolescents (10%) aged 12 to 19 years have at least one untreated cavity.[2]
- Children aged 5 to 19 years from low-income families are twice as likely (25%) to have cavities, compared with children from higher-income households (11%).[3]

Adults

- 1 in 5 adults (21%) aged 20 to 64 years have at least one untreated cavity.[2]
- Adults who are male, non-Hispanic Black, low income, have a high school education or less, and currently smoke experienced more untreated cavities compared to their respective reference groups.[2]

Older Adults

- Nearly all adults (96%) aged 65 years or older have had a cavity.[4]
- 1 in 6 adults aged 65 years or older have untreated cavities.[4]

Prevention

The good news is that cavities can be prevented. The best evidence shows:

- Fluoride varnish reduces cavities in primary (baby) teeth by one-third.[5]
- Children who drink fluoridated tap water have fewer cavities.[6]
- Children who brush daily with fluoride toothpaste have fewer cavities.[7]
- Dental sealants on the back teeth prevent 80% of cavities.[8]

Treatment and recovery

You should visit your dentist every year, especially to find any cavities. Your dentist may recommend fluoride or other products to stop small cavities. You may need a filling to fix larger cavities. A tooth with a cavity near the nerve may need a root canal or to be pulled.

How to Find Low-Cost Dental Care

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services provides information on where to find low-cost dental care. Additionally, many dental or dental hygiene schools have a clinic, staffed by the professors and students, where care is provided based on ability to pay. Find the closest program through the Commission on Dental Accreditation.

Myths and misconceptions

Myth: Baby teeth come out anyway so it doesn't matter if they have cavities.
Fact: Cavities in children can cause pain and may lead to problems with eating, speaking, playing, and learning. Infection from cavities can also hurt adult teeth growing underneath.

Myth: My tooth quit hurting so I don't need to see the dentist.
Fact: Waiting limits the options dentists have to fix large cavities. Cavities grow and, unless stopped, lead to tooth loss. Missing teeth can affect nutrition and lower your quality of life.[9]

Myth: I'm going to lose my teeth anyway, I should pull my teeth and get dentures.
Fact: More than 4 in 5 adults keep their teeth until they die.[4] Missing teeth can make it harder to eat meats, fruits, and vegetables which can lower quality of life.

Some adults were twice as likely to have untreated tooth decay.

Nearly half of adults aged 20–64 years who were: non-Hispanic black, low-income, had less than a high school education, or currently smoking cigarettes had untreated tooth decay.

This is two times the amount of untreated decay as the comparison groups.

Low-Income Adults Aged 20-64 Years Have More Untreated Cavities.

- Among adults having 1–3 teeth with untreated cavities, the proportion of low-income (less than 200% FPG) adults is almost double that of high-income (greater than of equal to 200% FPG) adults (26.2% vs. 13.2).
- The proportion of low-income (less than 200% FPG) adults having greater than or equal to 4 teeth with untreated cavities is over three times that of high-income (greater than of equal to 200% FPG) adults (13.2% vs. 3.9%).
- Low income adults have 2 to 3 times more untreated cavities.

Dentists

Summary

The median annual wage for dentists was $179,210 in May 2024.

Job Outlook

Overall employment of dentists is projected to grow 4 percent from 2024 to 2034, about as fast as the average for all occupations.

About 4,500 openings for dentists are projected each year, on average, over the decade. Many of those openings are expected to result from the need to replace workers who transfer to different occupations or exit the labor force, such as to retire.

What Dentists Do

Dentists remove tooth decay, fill cavities, and repair fractured teeth.

Dentists diagnose and treat problems with patients' teeth, gums, and related parts of the mouth. They provide advice and instruction on taking care of the teeth and gums and on diet choices that affect oral health.

Duties

Dentists typically do the following:

- Remove decay from teeth and fill cavities
- Repair or remove damaged teeth
- Place sealants or whitening agents on teeth
- Administer anesthetics to keep patients from feeling pain during procedures
- Prescribe antibiotics or other medications
- Examine x rays of teeth, gums, the jaw, and nearby areas in order to diagnose problems
- Make models and measurements for dental appliances, such as dentures
- Teach patients about diets, flossing, the use of fluoride, and other aspects of dental care

Dentists use a variety of equipment, including x-ray machines, drills, mouth mirrors, probes, forceps, brushes, and scalpels. They also use lasers, digital scanners, and other technologies.

In addition, dentists in private practice oversee a variety of administrative tasks, including bookkeeping and buying equipment and supplies. They employ and supervise dental hygienists, dental assistants, dental laboratory technicians, and receptionists.

Most dentists are general practitioners and handle a variety of dental needs. Other dentists practice in a specialty area, such as one of the following:

Dental anesthesiologists administer drugs (anesthetics) to reduce or eliminate pain during a dental procedure, monitor sedated patients to keep them safe, and help patients manage pain afterward.

Dental public health specialists promote good dental health and the prevention of dental diseases in specific communities.

Endodontists perform root canal therapy, removing the nerves and blood supply from injured or infected teeth.

Oral and maxillofacial radiologists diagnose diseases in the head and neck through the use of imaging technologies.

Oral and maxillofacial surgeons operate on the mouth, jaws, teeth, gums, neck, and head, performing procedures such as surgically repairing a cleft lip and palate or removing impacted teeth.

Oral pathologists diagnose conditions in the mouth, such as bumps or ulcers, and oral diseases, such as cancer.

Orthodontists straighten teeth by applying pressure to the teeth with braces or other appliances.

Pediatric dentists focus on dentistry for children and special-needs patients.

Periodontists treat the gums and bones supporting the teeth.

Dentists also may do research. Or, they may teach part time, including supervising students in dental school clinics. For more information, see the profiles on medical scientists and postsecondary teachers.

<- Summary

Work Environment ->

Work Environment

Dentists provide instruction on diet, brushing, flossing, the use of fluorides, and other areas of dental care.

Dentists held about 149,300 jobs in 2024. Employment in the detailed occupations that make up dentists was distributed as follows:

Dentists, general	129,800
Dentists, all other specialists	6,600
Oral and maxillofacial surgeons	6,100
Orthodontists	5,900
Prosthodontists	900

The largest employers of dentists were as follows:

Offices of dentists	78%
Self-employed workers	12
Government, excluding state and local education and hospitals	3
Offices of physicians	3
Outpatient care centers	2

Some dentists have their own business and work alone or with a small staff. Other dentists have partners in their practice. Still others work as associate dentists for established dental practices.

Dentists wear masks, gloves, and safety glasses to protect themselves and their patients from infectious diseases.

Work Schedules

Dentists' work schedules vary. Some work evenings and weekends to meet their patients' needs. Many dentists work less than 40 hours a week, although some work considerably more.

<- What They Do

How to Become One ->

How to Become a Dentist

Dentists must be licensed in all states; requirements vary by state.

Dentists must be licensed in the state in which they work. Licensure requirements vary by state, although candidates usually must have a Doctor of Dental Surgery (DDS) or Doctor of Medicine in Dentistry/Doctor of Dental Medicine (DMD) degree from an accredited dental program and pass written and clinical exams. Dentists who practice in a specialty area must complete postdoctoral training.

Education

Dentists typically need a DDS or DMD degree from an accredited dental program. Most programs require that applicants have at least a bachelor's degree and have completed certain science courses, such as biology or chemistry. Although no specific undergraduate major is required, programs may prefer applicants who have a bachelor's degree in a science, such as biology.

Applicants to dental schools usually take an entrance exam. Dental schools use this test along with other factors, such as grade point average, interviews, and recommendations, to admit students into their programs.

Dental school programs typically include coursework in subjects such as local anesthesia, anatomy, periodontics (the study of oral disease and health), and radiology. All programs at dental schools include clinical experience in which students work directly with patients under the supervision of a licensed dentist.

As early as high school, students interested in becoming dentists can take courses in subjects such as biology, chemistry, and math.

Training

All dental specialties require dentists to complete additional training before practicing that specialty. This training is usually a 2- to 4-year residency in an accredited program related to the specialty, which often culminates in a post[illegible]certificate or master's degree. Oral and maxillofacial surgery programs typically take 4 to 6 years and may result in candidates earning a joint Medic 229 (M.D.) degree.

General dentists do not need additional training after dental school.

Dentists who want to teach or do research full time may need advanced dental training, such as in a postdoctoral program in general dentistry.

Licenses, Certifications, and Registrations

Dentists must be licensed in the state in which they work. All states require dentists to be licensed; requirements vary by state. Most states require a dentist to have a DDS or DMD degree from an accredited dental program, pass the written exam, and pass a state or regional clinical examination.

In addition, a dentist who wants to practice in a dental specialty must have a license in that specialty. Licensure requires the completion of a residency after dental school and, in some cases, the completion of a special state exam. Information on state licensing board requirements is available from CareerOneStop.

Important Qualities

The following are examples of qualities that are important for these workers to perform their duties. For more information, visit the Employment Projections (EP) skills data page.

Communication skills. Dentists must communicate effectively with patients, dental hygienists, dental assistants, and receptionists.

Detail oriented. Dentists must pay attention to the shape and color of teeth and to the space between them. For example, they may need to closely match a false tooth with a patient's other teeth.

Dexterity. Dentists must be good with their hands. They must work carefully with tools in small spaces to ensure the safety of their patients.

Leadership skills. Dentists, especially those with their own practices, may need to manage staff or mentor other dentists.

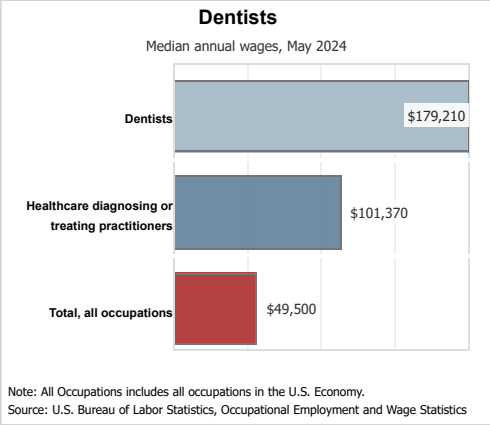

Organizational skills. Keeping accurate records of patient care is critical in both medical and business settings.

Patience. Dentists may work for long periods with patients who need special attention, including children and those with a fear of dental work.

Problem-solving skills. Dentists must evaluate patients' symptoms and choose the appropriate treatment.

<- Work Environment Pay ->

Pay

The median annual wage for dentists was $179,210 in May 2024. The median wage is the wage at which half the workers in an occupation earned more than that amount and half earned less. The lowest 10 percent earned less than $84,740, and the highest 10 percent earned more than $239,200.

Median annual wages for dentists in May 2024 were as follows:

Oral and maxillofacial surgeons	$239,200 or more
Prosthodontists	239,200 or more
Orthodontists	239,200 or more
Dentists, all other specialists	225,770
Dentists, general	172,790

In May 2024, the median annual wages for dentists in the top industries in which they worked were as follows:

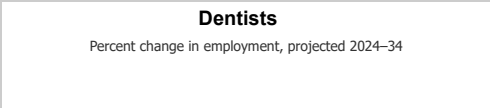

Government, excluding state and local education and hospitals	$213,210
Offices of physicians	180,120
Outpatient care centers	179,460
Offices of dentists	178,300

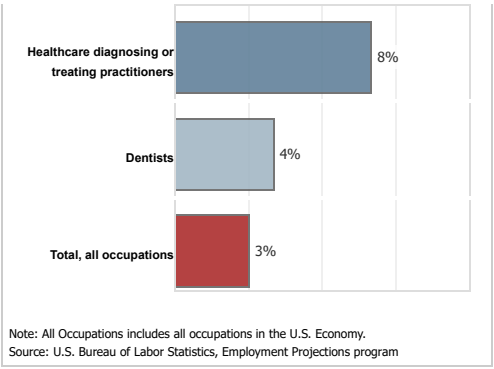

Wages vary with the dentist's location, number of hours worked, specialty, and number of years in practice.

Dentists' work schedules vary. Some work evenings and weekends to meet their patients' needs. Many dentists work less than 40 hours a week, although some may work considerably more.

<- How to Become One Job Outlook ->

Job Outlook

Note: All Occupations includes all occupations in the U.S. Economy.
Source: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Employment Projections program

Overall employment of dentists is projected to grow 4 percent from 2024 to 2034, about as fast as the average for all occupations.

About 4,500 openings for dentists are projected each year, on average, over the decade. Many of those openings are expected to result from the need to replace workers who transfer to different occupations or exit the labor force, such as to retire.

Employment

Demand for dentists is expected to increase as larger numbers of older people require dental services. Because each generation is more likely to keep their teeth than the previous generation, more dental care is expected to be needed in the years to come. In addition, dentists will be needed to treat dentofacial injuries and other conditions as well as to perform restorative procedures to treat complications from oral disease, such as gum disease and oral cancer. The growing popularity of cosmetic dentistry also is expected to support demand for dentists.

What Dental Hygienists Do

Dental hygienists wear safety glasses, surgical masks, and gloves to protect themselves and their patients from diseases.

Dental hygienists examine patients for signs of oral diseases, such as gingivitis, and provide preventive care, including oral hygiene. They also educate patients about oral health.

Duties

Dental hygienists typically do the following:

- Remove tartar, stains, and plaque from teeth
- Apply sealants and fluorides to help protect teeth
- Take and develop dental x rays
- Assess patients' oral health and report findings to dentists
- Document patient care and treatment plans
- Educate patients about oral hygiene techniques, such as how to brush and floss correctly

Dental hygienists use many types of tools—including hand, power, and ultrasonic tools—in their work. In some cases, they use lasers. Hygienists remove stains with an air-polishing device, which sprays a combination of air, water, and baking soda. They polish teeth with a power tool that works like an automatic toothbrush. Hygienists also use x-ray machines to take pictures to check for tooth or jaw problems.

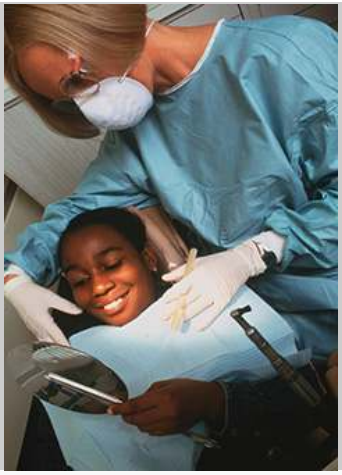

Dental hygienists talk to patients about ways to keep their teeth and gums healthy. For example, they may explain the relationship between diet and oral health. They may also advise patients on how to select toothbrushes and other oral care devices.

The tasks hygienists may perform, and the extent to which they must be supervised by a dentist, vary by state and by the setting in which the dental hygienist works. A few states allow hygienists with additional training, sometimes called dental therapists, to provide some restorative services, such as extracting primary teeth and placing temporary crowns.

<- Summary

Work Environment ->

Work Environment

Dental hygienists discuss diet and other topics that affect a patient's dental health.

Dental hygienists held about 221,600 jobs in 2024. The largest employers of dental hygienists were as follows:

Offices of dentists	94%
Offices of physicians	1
Government, excluding state and local education and hospitals	1

Dental hygienists wear safety glasses, surgical masks, and gloves to protect themselves and patients from infectious diseases. When taking x rays, they follow procedures to protect themselves and patients from radiation.

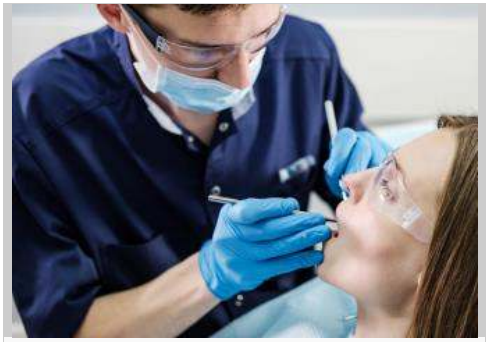

Work Schedules

Many dental hygienists work part time. Dentists may hire hygienists to work only a few days a week, so some hygienists work for more than one dentist.

<- What They Do

How to Become One ->

How to Become a Dental Hygienist

Dental hygienists remove tartar and plaque from teeth.

Dental hygienists typically need an associate's degree in dental hygiene. Programs usually take 3 years to complete. All states require dental hygienists to be licensed; requirements vary by state.

Education

Dental hygienists typically need an associate's degree in dental hygiene; they may also get a bachelor's degree. Master's degree programs in dental hygiene are available but are relatively uncommon. A bachelor's or master's degree usually is required for research, teaching, or clinical practice in public or school health programs.

Dental hygiene programs are often found in community colleges, technical schools, and universities. Programs typically take 3 years to complete and offer laboratory, clinical, and classroom instruction. Areas of study include anatomy, medical ethics, and periodontics, which is the study of gum disease.

High school students interested in becoming dental hygienists should take courses in biology, chemistry, and math. Most dental hygiene programs also require applicants to complete prerequisites, which often include college-level courses. Specific requirements vary by school.

Licenses, Certifications, and Registrations

Every state requires dental hygienists to be licensed; requirements vary by state. In most states, a degree from an accredited dental hygiene program and passing written and clinical examinations are required for licensure. To maintain licensure, hygienists must complete continuing education requirements. For specific requirements, contact your state's Board of Dental Examiners. Information on state licensing board requirements is available from CareerOneStop.

Many jobs also require cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) certification.

Important Qualities

The following are examples of qualities that are important for these workers to perform their duties. For more information, visit the Employment Projections (EP) skills data page.

Critical thinking. Dental hygienists must be able to assess and evaluate patients and to develop oral hygiene care plans.

Communication skills. Dental hygienists must share information with dentists and patients about oral health status, oral hygiene care plans, and, if necessary, lifestyle counseling.

Detail oriented. Dental hygienists must follow specific rules and protocols to help dentists diagnose and treat a patient. Depending on the state in which they work and/or the treatment provided, dental hygienists may work without the direct supervision of a dentist.

Dexterity. Dental hygienists must be good at working with their hands. They generally work in tight spaces on a small part of the body, which requires fine motor skills using precise tools and instruments.

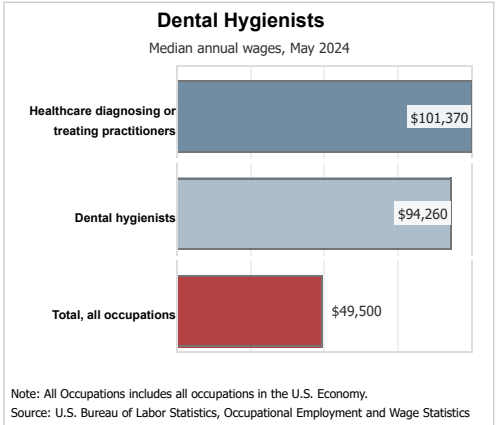

Interpersonal skills. Dental hygienists work closely with dentists. They also must be considerate in working with patients, especially with those who are sensitive to pain or who have fears about undergoing dental treatment.

Problem-solving skills. Dental hygienists develop and implement oral hygiene care plans to maintain or improve patients' oral health.

<- Work Environment

Pay ->

Pay

The median annual wage for dental hygienists was $94,260 in May 2024. The median wage is the wage at which half the workers in an occupation earned more than that amount and half earned less. The lowest 10 percent earned less than $66.470, and the highest 10 percent earned more than $120,060.

In May 2024, the median annual wages for dental hygienists in the top industries in which they worked were as follows:

Offices of dentists	$94,570
Offices of physicians	84,720
Government, excluding state and local education and hospitals	77,940

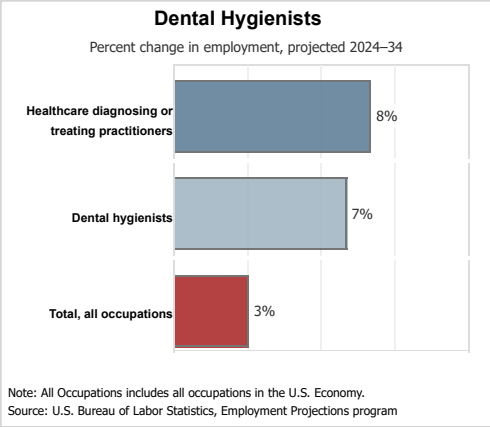

Benefits, such as vacation, sick leave, and retirement contributions, vary by employer and may be available only to full-time workers.

Many dental hygienists work part time. Dentists may hire hygienists to work only a few days a week, so some hygienists work for more than one dentist.

Employment

Demand for dental services is expected to increase as the older adult population grows and as people keep more of their original teeth than in previous generations.

Studies linking oral health and general health, along with efforts to expand access to oral hygiene services, should continue to drive demand for preventive dental services, including those performed by hygienists. In addition, demand for dental hygienists is expected to grow as state laws increasingly allow dental hygienists to work at the top of their training.

Telehealth for oral health

Introduction to telehealth for oral health

Telehealth can enhance oral health care by enabling remote consultations and assessments.

Nearly 58 million people live in designated dental health professional shortage areas with only 32 percent of the need met. This professional shortage exacerbates oral health disparities, leading to higher incidences of dental diseases and fewer treatment options for this population.

Telehealth is a tool that may help increase access to oral health care. Telehealth for oral health care, often called teledentistry, allows patients to receive preliminary evaluations, follow-up care, and education about oral hygiene practices without the need to visit a clinic in person. Teledentistry can also be used to triage potential acute infections as well as assess dental and craniofacial trauma for emergency care or follow-up treatment. Through video calls, photographs, and digital scanning, dentists can diagnose issues, monitor ongoing treatments, and provide guidance on preventive measures. Additionally, telehealth can potentially aid in the management of oral related chronic conditions, providing convenience and potentially lessening the need for frequent in-person appointments.

This best practice guide provides detailed information and resources on how to use teledentistry.

Article 2: Purpose

The objectives of the ITI are the promotion and dissemination of knowledge about implant dentistry and its related fields through education, research and interpersonal exchange.

These objectives are achieved through the ITI Philosophy, which encompasses scientific credibility, independence and a sense of responsibility towards the patient through a non-profit academic organization of clinicians and researchers.

The Association has solely charitable objectives and is politically and denominationally neutral. The official language of the ITI is English.

Information on the Darf Printing

The Annual Adjustment Statement Program for Individual Income Tax allows the printing of the DARF for the payment of all installments, including those overdue. The Darf will be printed with interest equivalent to the reference rate of the Special System for Settlement and Custody (Selic) for federal securities, accumulated monthly, calculated from 02/06/2025 until the month prior to payment, and 1% in the month of payment.

If the installment payment is made after its due date, a late payment penalty of 0.33% per day will apply, with a maximum limit of 20%.

For printing the Darf, in the Tax Return Generator Program, the taxpayer should use the option Declaration / Print / Darf of the IRPF and select the installment for printing.

In the case of installments resulting from amended declarations that lead to a change in tax payable, for printing the DARF, access the e-CAC Portal on the RFB (Brazilian Federal Revenue) website at (http://gov.br/receitafederal). Then, click on "Declarations and Statements", select the service "My Income Tax". Under Services, click on "Check Debts, Issue DARF, and Change Installments". After viewing the number of installments and the status of each one, click on the "Print" icon to generate the DARF for the desired month.

How to use this data in your operation: For HR managers and directors , the net balance combined with the hiring rate anticipates the competitive pressure for talent — a positive balance and a rate above 1.0 require a review of salary policy, benefits, and employer branding to retain General Dentist professionals. For compensation consultants and headhunters , these indicators measure the availability of passive candidates and the urgency in moving processes forward. For CEOs, executive directors, and line managers , turnover is a warning sign: rates above 30% may indicate problems with the work environment, career plan, or salary gap that impact productivity and replacement costs. Data extracted from CAGED/MTE and processed with the exclusive methodology of Portal Salário , considering only professionals hired under the CLT regime.

Exhibit C.II - Secong Prong - Letters of Support

October 7, 2025
Uberaba, Minas Gerais, Brazil

To the Immigration Officer,

My name is Ana Gabriela Batista Campos Puhler (registration number with the Regional Council of Dentistry, CRO-MG 39569). I am a dental surgeon and the owner of AG Odontologia in Uberaba, Minas Gerais, and a professor at the University of Uberaba, Minas Gerais, Brazil. I hold a master's degree in dentistry and specialized training in Orthodontics and Pediatric Dentistry, as well as experience as a clinical supervisor and academic evaluator, which provides me with a solid foundation to assess clinical technique and procedural standards. I provide comprehensive dental care, coordinate referrals for surgical interventions, and contribute to the training of dental professionals, with a focus on clinical standards and patient safety.

I came to know Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa professionally through referrals within the Uniodonto cooperative network, where I was seeking a reliable oral and maxillofacial surgeon to perform third molar extractions for my patients. Based on those references, I began referring patients to his office, a collaboration that has continued for several years. Over time, after consistently receiving positive feedback from patients regarding their surgical experience and postoperative outcomes, I expanded my referrals to include implant treatments. Approximately two years ago, I invited Dr. Arthur to perform complex third molar surgeries at my clinic, which allowed me to directly observe his technique and patient management.

From a technical standpoint, Dr. Arthur demonstrates efficient surgical execution, with controlled tissue handling, appropriate management of the operative field, and an organized workflow, which together reduce chair time and patient anxiety. In the procedures I observed, he maintained constant communication, adhered to aseptic protocols, and demonstrated sound judgment in flap design, bone exposure, and sectioning when indicated. His perioperative management is systematic, establishing preoperative medication regimens when appropriate, providing precise postoperative instructions, and monitoring recovery parameters, which is reflected in the absence of postoperative complaints among all patients I referred or assisted during treatment.

In addition to his technical proficiency, his case selection and implant planning have resulted in stable restorative outcomes, as reported by patients after placement of the prostheses. Patients consistently describe a sense of predictability throughout the entire treatment sequence, from the surgical placement procedure to the prosthetic completion, which indicates effective coordination and documentation at each stage. The functional and aesthetic stability of these outcomes further reinforces the quality of the integration between the surgical and prosthetic phases.

The integration of Dr. Arthur's services into my clinic generated concrete benefits, as we were able to perform complex third molar surgeries internally, with consistent patient satisfaction and without worsening postoperative complications. His participation expanded our capacity to offer advanced surgical procedures within the clinic itself, reduced the need for external referrals, optimized the procedural workflow, and improved overall efficiency in patient care. Together, these factors reduced operational costs and strengthened patient retention at the practice.

What distinguishes Dr. Arthur is the combination of procedural agility, a calm demeanor during the intraoperative period, and structured perioperative care. This balance promotes patient comfort and adherence, which are essential aspects of oral surgery. Such consistency and predictability are not common in general clinical settings, and his approach is aligned with evidence-based standards of care. This has consistently led to favorable clinical outcomes for my patients.

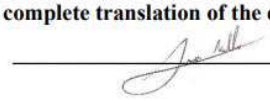

In view of these observations, his contributions have clear clinical value. Although his possible departure from our local collaboration would represent a significant loss to my practice, his skills and methodology will also be beneficial in the context of the United States.

Sincerely,

Uberaba, Minas Gerais, Brasil

Ao Oficial de Imigração,

Meu nome é Ana Gabriela Batista Campos Puhler (número de registro no Conselho Regional de Odontologia (CRO-MG 39569). Sou cirurgiã-dentista e proprietária da AG Odontologia em Uberaba, Minas Gerais, e professora na Universidade de Uberaba-MG, Brasil. Possuo mestrado em odontologia e formação especializada em Ortodontia e Odontopediatria, bem como experiência como supervisora clínica e avaliadora acadêmica, o que me proporciona uma base sólida para avaliar a técnica clínica e os padrões de procedimentos. Ofereço atendimento odontológico abrangente, coordeno encaminhamentos para intervenções cirúrgicas e contribuo para a formação de profissionais de odontologia, com foco em padrões clínicos e na segurança do paciente.

Passei a conhecer, profissionalmente, o Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa por meio de indicações na rede cooperativa Uniodonto, na qual procurei um cirurgião bucomaxilofacial confiável para realizar extrações de terceiros molares em meus pacientes. Com base nessas referências, comecei a encaminhar pacientes para o consultório dele, colaboração que já dura vários anos. Com o tempo, após receber de forma consistente retornos positivos dos pacientes sobre a experiência cirúrgica e os resultados pós-operatórios, ampliei meus encaminhamentos para incluir tratamentos com implantes. Há aproximadamente dois anos, convidei o Dr. Arthur para realizar cirurgias complexas de terceiros molares em minha clínica, o que me permitiu observar diretamente sua técnica e seu manejo com os pacientes.

Do ponto de vista técnico, o Dr. Arthur demonstra execução cirúrgica eficiente, com manipulação controlada dos tecidos, manejo adequado do campo operatório e fluxo de trabalho organizado, o que, em conjunto, reduz o tempo de cadeira e a ansiedade do paciente. Nos procedimentos que observei, ele manteve comunicação constante, aderiu aos protocolos de assepsia e demonstrou bom critério no desenho de retalhos, na exposição óssea e na secção quando indicada. Seu manejo perioperatório é sistemático, estabelecendo esquemas de medicação pré-operatórios quando apropriado, fornecendo orientações pós-operatórias precisas e monitorando parâmetros de recuperação, o que se reflete na ausência de queixas pós-operatórias entre todos os pacientes que encaminhei ou a quem prestei assistência durante o tratamento.

Além da proficiência técnica, sua seleção de casos e o planejamento de implantes resultaram em desfechos restauradores estáveis, conforme relatado pelos pacientes após a instalação das próteses. Os pacientes descrevem de forma consistente uma sensação de previsibilidade ao longo de toda a sequência de tratamento, desde o ato cirúrgico de instalação até a conclusão protética, o que indica coordenação e documentação eficazes em cada etapa. A estabilidade funcional e estética desses resultados reforça ainda mais a qualidade da integração entre as fases cirúrgica e protética.

A integração dos serviços do Dr. Arthur à minha clínica gerou benefícios concretos, pois passamos a realizar cirurgias complexas de terceiros molares internamente, com satisfação constante dos pacientes e sem agravamento das complicações pós-operatórias. A participação dele ampliou nossa capacidade de oferecer procedimentos cirúrgicos avançados na própria clínica, reduziu a necessidade de encaminhamentos externos, otimizou o fluxo de trabalho dos procedimentos e melhorou a eficiência geral no agendamento. Em conjunto, esses fatores reduziram os custos operacionais e fortaleceram a retenção de pacientes no consultório.

O que distingue o Dr. Arthur é a combinação de agilidade nos procedimentos, postura calma durante o transoperatório e cuidado perioperatório estruturado. Esse equilíbrio favorece o conforto e a adesão do paciente, aspectos essenciais na cirurgia oral. Tal consistência e previsibilidade não são comuns em ambientes de clínica geral, e sua abordagem está alinhada aos padrões de cuidado baseados em evidências. Isso tem levado, de forma consistente, a desfechos clínicos favoráveis para meus pacientes.

Diante dessas observações, suas contribuições têm valor clínico evidente. Embora a possível saída dele da nossa colaboração local represente uma perda significativa para minha prática, suas habilidades e metodologia também serão benéficas no contexto dos Estados Unidos.

To the USCIS Immigration Officer,

My name is Luís Henrique Borges, and I am a dentist registered with the Regional Dental Council under number CRO-MG 17318. I also serve as a Professor of Dentistry and as the Director of the undergraduate Dentistry course at the University of Uberaba.

I have known Mr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa since his admission to the Dentistry course at the University of Uberaba. During his studies, I was his professor in Removable Prosthesis. This clinically oriented field requires a solid understanding of prosthodontic principles and the careful execution of laboratory and clinical procedures. In addition to my role as a professor, I also followed his trajectory as Director of the undergraduate course, which provided me with a broader view of his progression as a student in the program.

In the Removable Prosthesis discipline, Mr. Sousa consistently demonstrated competence and attentiveness, assimilating the course's theoretical content and applying it to clinical and laboratory practice. According to my classroom experience and clinical supervision, he demonstrated a strong practical aptitude in the execution of removable prosthetic work, respecting the technical requirements outlined in the discipline and applying them to the activities proposed during the course. The works delivered by Mr. Sousa in this discipline were well executed, in accordance with the academic criteria ordinarily applied to students in our program.

During his undergraduate training, Mr. Sousa took the initiative to adjust his study schedule to carry out clinical activities under the supervision of another professor at the university, who coordinated a specialization program in implantology. From my perspective as course director, this decision demonstrated that he sought to make effective use of the academic and clinical structures available at the institution, integrating the regular curriculum with additional supervised clinical exposure, without departing from the educational framework of the Dentistry program.

Based on the period in which I taught and accompanied Mr. Sousa at the University of Uberaba, he made appropriate use of the education offered by the Dentistry course. He was adequately prepared for professional practice at the time of his graduation and demonstrated a level of clinical readiness that remains relevant to contemporary practice settings. For these reasons, I consider Mr. Sousa to have fulfilled the academic and clinical requirements expected of a graduate of our Dentistry program and to possess foundational training compatible with professional practice in regulated dental environments, including those in the United States, rather than issuing a broad professional endorsement.

Influence of Bulk-Fill composite resin insertion type related to hybrid layer, formation of ?gap?, Union resistance and surface tension.

Project certified by (a) coordinator (a) Saturnino Calabrez Filho on 07/11/2019.

Description: The objective of this work will be to evaluate superficial characteristics such as topography and formation of ?Gaps?, the characteristics of the hybrid layer, union resistance to micro-traction and the tension generated by the polymerization of Bulk-Fill resinous materials and conventional composite resin. Will 96 Class II cavity preparations be carried out?slot? vertical with gingival endings in cementum and enamel, using diamond tips and refining the finish with cutting manual instruments. To do this, they will be separated into four groups using the ParaBond adhesive system for Fill-Up and Tetric N-Bond resins for Tetric Ceran resins: Group 1 ? incremental technique: Tetric Ceran; Group 2 - Tetric Bulk Fill in a single increment; Group 3- Fill-Up will be applied in a single increment until the final height of the cavity preparation, photo-activated and then waited for 3 minutes and photoactivated for 3 seconds; Group 4 - Fill-Up in a single increment according to the manufacturer's recommendations and expected self-activation time without using light. After the necessary restorations have been carried out, thermal cycling will be carried out with 6000 cycles varying the temperature from 5 and 55oC, then the proposed tests will be carried out and the data will be analyzed through the analysis of the normality and homogeneity of the data and if the precepts of parametric analysis applying the Anova 3-way test. Perception of the CD, public and private network regarding the inclusion of the Oral Health Technician in the oral health team.

Description: The oral health team is made up of a dental surgeon, oral health technician and oral health assistant. Teamwork results in greater quality, rationality and expansion of performance However, what can be seen is the need for greater interaction between these components to achieve the objectives. Currently, both in public and private services, there is a reversal of the duties and competencies of the oral health technician, which does not allow the health team to function correctly. One of the reasons may be the short approval time of the oral health technical profession, which has not yet allowed the dental surgeon to recognize the profession. Thus, the objective of this work is to evaluate the dentist's perception regarding the insertion of the Oral Health Technician, as a participant in the oral health team. To do this, we will use a semi-structured qualitative questionnaire..

IN VITRO ASSESSMENT OF FRICTIONAL RESISTANCE BETWEEN CERAMIC BRACKETS AND ORTHODONTIC THREADS

Description: With the advent of new materials in the dentistry market, such as conventional and self-ligating monocrystalline ceramic brackets, the study of friction and the factors that influence it can directly imply the choice of materials to be used in orthodontic treatment, taking into account the important role in the force required to slide the bracket channel into the wire. It is therefore of fundamental importance that the orthodontist knows the physical properties of the materials with which he is used to working, considering the direct effect reflected in his clinical daily life..

To Whom It May Concern,

I am Dr. Thiago Assunção Valentino (registered with the Regional Council of Dentistry of Minas Gerais under registration number CRO-MG 35720), a faculty member in Dentistry at the Universidade de Uberaba in Uberaba, Brazil. I hold a PhD in Clinical Dentistry from the Universidade Estadual de Campinas and have served for many years as a professor and researcher in restorative dentistry, biomaterials, and implantology. In this capacity, I have trained undergraduate and postgraduate students and supervised both clinical and laboratory work. You can find my curriculum at: http://lattes.cnpq.br/9011230351008205.

I first met Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa when he was an undergraduate dental student at our institution, where I taught Restorative Dentistry. During that semester, I instructed him in the theoretical and laboratory components and, as schedules permitted, briefly accompanied him during the internship's clinical activities. Our professional interaction deepened when we enrolled in the same Implantology specialization at HD Ensinos from 2008 to 2010. Over twenty-four months of intensive training, one week per month, we worked as clinical partners. I assisted in his surgeries, and he assisted in mine, which allowed me to observe his technical practice closely under routine and advanced conditions.

Throughout that specialization, I personally observed him perform extractions, single- and multiple-dental implant placements, sinus floor elevation via both crestal and lateral approaches, and several types of bone reconstruction. We also completed prosthetic rehabilitations following those surgeries, demonstrating his integrated understanding from the surgical stage to final occlusal function. What distinguished him was manual skill, appropriate technique selection, efficient sequencing, and anticipation of complications. While colleagues in the cohort often requested faculty intervention during challenging steps, Dr. Sousa managed his cases independently, reflecting sound judgment and autonomy for a clinician at the specialization stage. During this period, it became evident that his performance was already comparable to that of early-career specialists rather than trainees. His ability to independently conduct advanced procedures with predictable outcomes surpassed the level typically expected during specialization training.

From his undergraduate years, he prepared diligently and sought to connect evidence to clinical application. That attitude supported rapid progression during the implantology program. Across many cases, he incorporated feedback, strengthened field control, and maintained consistent postoperative results, achieving functional and aesthetic objectives for his patients. From my perspective as a researcher in biomaterials, he consistently applied scientific principles to surgical planning, graft selection, and the management of implant stability. His decisions reflected an uncommon understanding of biomaterial behavior among general practitioners and contributed to the reliability of his surgical outcomes. In my view, the combination of disciplined preparation, technical dexterity, and end-to-end rehabilitation competence places him above the median skill level among general practitioners who pursue implantology.

His expertise is relevant to broader clinical needs because implant therapy and associated augmentation techniques address prevalent scenarios in aging populations and after trauma or tooth loss. Clinicians capable of performing sinus augmentation and staged reconstructions expand access to definitive treatment options and integrate smoothly with multidisciplinary teams. In U.S. practice environments that value evidence-based planning, careful execution, and coordinated prosthetic integration, Dr. Sousa's training and demonstrated independence align well with expectations for quality care.

Based on my direct observation in the clinic and the continuity of his professional trajectory since 2010 in a competitive local market, I consider Dr. Sousa a dependable and technically proficient practitioner. I support his immigration petition and can elaborate on outcomes or methods upon request.

Sincerely,

Thiago Assunção Valentino

Effect of Different Surface Treatments on the Union Resistance of Lithium Disilicate-Based Ceramic Laminates to Dental Enamel

Description: Currently, aesthetic work involving the use of ceramics has become increasingly common. This study aims to demonstrate in vitro which surface treatment is most suitable for dental ceramics based on lithium disilicate. 120 veneers (n=10) will be made to be subjected to three treatment variations, the thermocycling process and microhear testing. An analysis using SEM will provide the most common fracture pattern. It is expected that the groups that received the combined treatment of acid attack, binding agent and adhesive will present greater bonding resistance than the others..

INFLUENCE OF ADHESIVE SYSTEMS APPLICATION TECHNIQUES ON THE BONDING RESISTANCE AND THICKNESS OF THE ADHESIVE LAYER IN COMPOSITE RESIN RESTORATIONS

Description: This work aims to evaluate the bond strength and thickness of the adhesive layer in composite resin restorations, using two types of systems, one self-conditioning (Clearfil Kuraray) and one conventional (Scothbond 3M ESPE), varying adhesive application techniques. 80 recently ext[illegible] human molar teeth will be selected, obtained from the Human Teeth

Bank of the University of Uberaba, in which class I cavities will be prepared in the occlusal with 6mm disto-mesial extension, 3mm in the vestibulo-lingual direction and 3mm in depth, standardized through the use of a preparation machine. Subsequently, the teeth will be restored with composite resin (Filtek-Z350 3M ESPE), varying the systems and techniques for applying the adhesives, according to the following groups (n=10): Group SB1 (control) the Scothbond adhesive system will be applied, performing prior acid conditioning, applying the primer and adhesive, which will then be photoactivated for 20 seconds; Group SB2 will follow the same sequence as the previous group, however, prior to photoactivation, excess adhesive will be removed with a light jet of air for 5 seconds; Group SB3 will follow the same sequence as the previous group, however, prior to photoactivation, excess adhesive will be removed with a dry microbrush; Group SB4 will follow the same sequence as the previous group, however, prior to photoactivation, excess adhesive will be removed with a dry microbrush associated with a light jet of air for 5 seconds; CL1 Group (control) - the Clerafil adhesive system will be applied, applying the acidified primer and adhesive, which will then be photoactivated for 20 seconds; CL2 Group - will follow the same sequence as the previous group, however, before photoactivation, excess adhesive will be removed with a light jet of air for 5 seconds; CL3 Group - will follow the same sequence as the previous group, however, prior to photoactivation it will be r. ..

CASTOR BEAN POLYURETHANE AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR AUTOGENOUS BONE GRAFT IN RABBITS

Description: The material that could replace autogenous bone is the subject of several studies. The ideal bone substitute must have some properties, such as: avoiding physical modification in the tissue, being chemically inert, not inducing an allergic reaction and being easy to obtain in sufficient quantity and form to adequately fill the bone defect. The greatest difficulty today in relation to the use of biomaterials is related to finding a material that is as similar as possible to living tissue, which would allow the organism to recognize it as part of its structure, unlike an aggressor agent. The literature presents studies in which castor bean polymer was implanted in bone defects, with satisfactory reports on its clinical and biological behavior. Due to the growing interest in using biomaterials as an alternative for filling bone defects, this study aims to evaluate the action of castor bean polymer in filling bone faults..

Description: This study aims to evaluate different photoactivation units in the Knoop microhardness of different composite resin formulations. Four types of devices were used (Halogen, Argon Laser, Plasma Arc and LEDs), in addition to three types of composite resin (FiltekTM Supreme, Herculite XRV and Heliomolar). To the USCIS Immigration Officer,

I am Dr. Rosa Maria da Silva, a dentist at OrtoClean in Uberaba, Minas Gerais, and a Professor in Pediatric Dentistry at the University of Uberaba. In my teaching role, I supervise clinical training and routinely assess students' performance and patient outcomes. In this context, I supervised Arthur throughout his final-year internship in pediatric dentistry and urgent care, actively participating in his clinical development.

I first came to know Dr. Sousa while overseeing his pediatric dentistry and urgent care rotations. In that setting, he showed careful clinical judgment under time constraints and a consistent, respectful manner with patients and families. After graduation, those qualities remained evident in private practice, which led me to entrust him with the surgical extraction of my daughters' third molars. The procedures were efficient and complication-free, and both recoveries were smooth. This experience reinforced my confidence in his surgical technique and perioperative management.

Over subsequent years, I referred several implant patients to Dr. Sousa for surgical placement while I completed the prosthetic rehabilitation. These referrals included straightforward cases involving one or two implants in native bone, as well as more complex cases requiring bone grafting. A recent example involved my brother, who has a cardiac history and needed a maxillary sinus graft before implant placement. Dr. Sousa planned the case conservatively, coordinated preoperative care with attention to the systemic condition and preoperative needs, and performed the sinus augmentation and implant surgery with excellent outcomes. My brother had appropriate support through recovery, and the surgical sites were ideal for timely prosthetic restoration.

In my experience, Dr. Sousa stands out locally for consistency in oral surgery, particularly extractions, bone grafting, and implant placement. The implant cases I receive from his practice are stable and well-positioned, which favors long-term function and hygiene. This level of precision improves patient satisfaction and reduces the likelihood of corrective interventions. Patients also comment on his clear communication, calm demeanor, and thoughtful follow-up, which complement the technical quality of his work.

Given the ongoing demand for reliable implant rehabilitation and the importance of predictable surgical foundations, Dr. Sousa's competencies are directly relevant to multidisciplinary care models. His methods reflect current standards and a patient-centered approach that translates well to United States settings where coordination among providers and procedural quality are essential.

I support his immigration petition based on firsthand observation of his training and years of successful co-management of cases.

Uberaba, Brazil. 10/24/2025

From: Sandra Marisa Santos Leal Jacinto, CRO-MG 24423
Coordinator, Local Auditing and Referrals at Uniodonto Uberaba
+55 34 99997-4425 / +55 34 3334-7770 / sandramarisaleal@gmail.com

To USCIS,

As Coordinator of Local Auditing and Referrals at Uniodonto Uberaba, I oversee treatment-claim auditing and complex-case referrals, providing me with a direct view of clinical quality and professional conduct across multiple providers. My name is Dr. Sandra Marisa Santos Leal Jacinto, duly registered with the Regional Council of Dentistry of Minas Gerais under registration number CRO-MG 24423, and I also support case resolution across our cooperative network through ongoing file reviews and referrals.

Through our auditing workflow, I have reviewed Dr. Arthur Ribeiro Melo e Sousa's cases over several years, as his submissions were subject to routine review. Because my team evaluates every treatment claim in our cooperative, I have had steady and reliable visibility into the standard of care he provides. Over time, his work became associated with protocol compliance, documentation adherence, and clear patient communication, which, in our day-to-day auditing, is not always guaranteed.

In my role, I often encounter issues from other providers, including gaps in communication, weak planning, and execution errors. Over the last five years in particular, we have frequently turned to Dr. Sousa to take over complex cases that needed resolution and patient recovery. He consistently accepted these referrals, even when patients were already dissatisfied and hesitant. In each of these assignments, he corrected the clinical problems, stabilized the cases, and rebuilt trust, bringing beneficiaries back to the cooperative's side. This mix of technical proficiency and patient management stands out in our system.

Dr. Sousa maintains a high, steady volume of submissions, with procedures that are well documented and well executed. His track record has made him a reference in surgery and implant dentistry within our cooperative. Many of our staff members have been treated by him or referred their families to his care, which is a practical sign of the credibility he has earned. From an auditing standpoint, his files show appropriate planning, adherence to protocols, and outcomes that align with proposed treatment plans, thereby reducing the need for corrective interventions and optimizing the use of cooperative resources.

The effect of this performance goes beyond isolated cases. By reliably resolving complex referrals, he supports our quality assurance goals and strengthens our reputation in the community. This profile is valuable in U.S. clinical systems that rely on quality assurance, transparent documentation, and predictable resolution of complex referrals.

I support Dr. Sousa's immigration petition based on sustained professional observation of his work and results. He remains our first choice when complex cases arise that require a competent and reliable professional.
Please feel free to contact me for any clarifications on the reviewed files.

With respect,

Sandra Maria Santos Leal Jacinto

JUDGMENT

Digital Case No.:	1008126-13.2020.8.26.0037
Type - Subject:	Contested Divorce - Dissolution
Plaintiff:	Monic Fernandes da Silva Sgarbi
Defendant:	Leonardo Aurelio Sgarbi

Legal Aid Granted

Judge of Law: Dr. Glauce Helena Raphael Vicente Rodrigues

Seen,

This is an action filed by M.F.S.S. against L.A.S., originally seeking the decree of divorce of the couple and the division of assets, with requests for the regulation of custody of the minor children, visitation, and child support.

The defendant, duly served, filed a defense on pages 85 to 110, in which he contested the claims of the initial petition, consenting only to the decree of divorce.

A reply was filed on pages 184 to 191.

After the decision on pages 196 to 198, the parties, during the conciliation hearing (pages 220 to 221), agreed on the decree of divorce and on the plaintiff's option to resume her maiden name. The agreement was duly ratified on pages 224 to 225.

Subsequently, by joint petition on pages 247 to 249, the parties informed of an agreement also regarding the division of assets, duly ratified on pages 262 to 263.

Proceeding further, with only matters related to custody, visitation, and child support for the minor children remaining, psychological evaluation and social study were conducted, with the reports found on pages 272 to 276 and 277 to 279.

Regarding the expert evidence, only the defendant submitted a statement (pages 284 to 286), while the plaintiff remained silent (page 287).

Opinion of the Public Prosecutor's Office on pages 290 to 293, recommending the granting of sole custody of the minors to the father and the establishment of visitation rights for the mother.

This is the brief report.

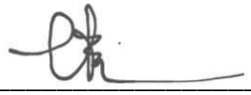

I BASE MY DECISION AND

HEREBY DECIDE

Having ratified the agreements reached by the parties regarding the decree of divorce and division of assets, I now proceed to decide the remaining matters concerning the custody and visitation of the minor children.
